Party Row Threatens To Break Up Special Senate Committee

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP) — A sharp Democratic - Republican quarrel over how to run the Senate investigation of influence pressures threatened today to break it up before it ever gets started.

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn), who has been tentatively chose to be chairman of the evenly divided eight-member investigation committee, carried the dispute into the open.

He told the Senate the four Republicans on it were demanding, in the name of bipartisanship, a division of authority that would hamstring any investigation. In that situation, he said, it would be "doomed to failure before it started."

Sen. Bridges (R-NH), the likely vice chairman, said the Republican members weren't asking anything unreasonable. He said they did want "dual responsibility, dual control and dual authority."

Gore Offers To Drop Out

Gore offered to drop out of consideration for the chairmanship if that would help things. Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) and Sen. Knowland (R-Calif), the Senate's party chiefs, both counselled patience.

Gore related that at the first gathering of the committee members, Bridges suggested that meetings be called only by joint action of the chairman and vice chairman, and that subpoenas for witnesses be issued the same way.

Gore said this prompted Sen. Anderson (D-MN) to say that "a senator who would accept the chairmanship under the proposed conditions, would need his head examined."

Alternatives Proposed

Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass) said that if the Gore-Bridges committee cannot get together, a committee of five Democrats and four Republicans should take over. Or, he said, the Senate's regular committees could do the job.

Sen. Hennings (D-Mo) announced that if the special investigating committee has not gotten organized and settled on its procedure by a week from today, he will move to abandon it and let the regular Senate committees move in.

Antique Dealer Finds Fortune Beneath Table

DELAVAN, Wis., March 8 (AP)—Heinrich Hansen, a dealer in antiques, discovered that the two sections of an extension dining room table he bought from an estate were nailed together.

The nails, he observed, were fastened to a rough wooden box to hold it beneath the table. When Hansen broke open the box he found a metal box inside. And in it Hansen found $40,000 in government securities. Hansen said today he had found the bonds two weeks ago but, at the request of authorities, had kept it secret until it could be established that the bonds were part of the estate.

"I could hardly believe my eyes," said Hansen, who is also a furniture refinisher.

Hansen had purchased the table from the estate of the late George Harrington, a retired 79-year-old printer who lived the life of a recluse and died at a rest home Dec. 29. Friends believed Harrington had considerable money but he gave no indication of wealth. The bonds will become part of his estate.

Dewey Attends Private Dinner At White House

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP) — President Eisenhower gave a private dinner at the White House tonight for a group of friends, including former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Dewey's presence indicated the affair might have a political flavor. He played a key role in Eisenhower's 1951 campaign and could take an active hand in the President's campaign for re-election.

There was speculation—but no confirmation—that the talk at the White House dinner might deal with, among other things, the political future of Vice President Nixon. Dewey, it is known, is one of those who favored Nixon as Eisenhower's running mate four years ago.

The President told a news conference yesterday that he had asked Nixon to chart his own political course as to whether he wants to bid for another term. Eisenhower has declined to say whether Nixon would be his choice if the vice president should decide he wants to run again.

Soviet Leaders' Activities Draw SEATO Criticism

KARACHI, Pakistan, March 8 (AP) — SEATO ministers tonight called recent statements and activities of Soviet leaders trouble-making attempts to increase tension and "promote division in Asian communities and among other nations of the free world."

A communique issued by the ministerial council of the eight-nation Southeast Asia Treaty Organization named no names, but it obviously was directed at last fall's visit by Communist party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev and Premier Nikolai Bulganin to India, Burma and Afghanistan.

"Intervention" Deplored

In statements and speeches, Khrushchev and Bulganin fired up old controversies by siding with India and Afghanistan in their disputes with Pakistan over territorial claims and also attacked what the Russians called oppressive colonial policies of the Western powers.

The communique said:

"The council deplored statements and interventions by Soviet leaders . . . designed to increase tension and promote division in Asian communities and among other nations of the free world."

The communique, winding up the three-day meeting, also disclosed the ministers supported Pakistan in her quarrel with Afghanistan over the Pushtoonistan area as well as backing Pakistan in her call for a plebiscite in Kashmir.

U. S. Remains On Guard

Secretary of State Dulles told his seven colleagues in today's closed session the United States is keeping a strong military guard on Southeast Asia.

The same force is available for the area that he disclosed at the Bangkok SEATO meeting last year, he said, and "there has been considerable improvement in terms of modernization."

In his report at Bangkok Dulles had said the total strength of the United States in Southeast Asia, plus the total immediately available for instant use, was equal to if not greater than the peak American strength reached in the Pacific during World War II.

White House, GOP Deny Ike Shrinks Duty

Republicans Assert Eisenhower Merely Curtails "Folderol"

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP)—A White House official and several Republican senators denied today that President Eisenhower has whittled down the constitutional duties of the presidency.

Their statements were in reply to a speech last night by Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala).

Sparkman said Eisenhower, because of medical restrictions on his activities, is delegating to others "functions which lie at the very core of the presidency."

The Republican replies were that Eisenhower is merely curtailing the "folderol" and "hospitality" functions of the office.

Two Kinds Of Duties

Murray Snyder, assistant White House press secretary, told reporters with reference to what Eisenhower has said at his last two news conferences:

"I think the President very clearly stated last Wednesday and again yesterday the distinction between his constitutional duties and his hospitalities duties, the latter being the department in which he has reduced his activities.

"Certainly he has not reduced his constitutional duties."

Referring further to Sparkman's contention, Snyder said:

"I don't think the senator would measure his services by the number of hours he puts in on the floor, or by the number of constituents he sees."

Mundt's Statement

Sen. Mundt (R-SD) said Eisenhower "is only getting rid of the folderol so he can devote more time to administrative decisions."

Similarly, Sen. Allott (R-Colo) said "the President is going to be president, not the bridesmaid at weddings or the chief mourner at funerals."

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) interpreted Eisenhower's plans as meaning "that he is not ever going to be a part-time president" and added:

"He would not hang onto the office as Woodrow Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt did when they were incapacitated."

Four Iowa Girls Admit Making Up Kidnaping Story

INDEPENDENCE, Kan., March 8 (AP)—Four Iowa high school girls tearfully admitted tonight they drove away from home yesterday on a lark, lost their nerve and made up a story about being kidnaped.

Their admission ended a large-scale manhunt in southeast Kansas and northeast Oklahoma for the fictitious kidnapers, described by the girls as two armed men.

The girls were Lois Davis, 18; Judy Damman, 17, Janeane Fahrney, 17, and Gloria Jensma, 18, all seniors at Newton, Iowa, high school.

Judy is an aunt of Steven Damman, 3, who was kidnaped from in front of a Long Island, N. Y., market Oct. 31. The boy never has been found.

Miss Davis told a reporter:

"I'm terribly sorry. I don't know why we did it. We're really not that ignorant."

Second Man Seized By FBI In $188,000 Bank Robbery

NEW YORK, March 8 (AP)—Brilliant police work led today to the seizure of a second man for questioning in last Friday's $188,000 holdup of a suburban Westchester County bank. Most of the money was recovered.

The painstaking criminal investigation matched in its quiet intensity the exquisite planning that went into the daring stickup.

A few digits from a license plate—these meager clues led the FBI to two men within a few hours last night and today.

First to be arrested was Arthur L. Paisner, a shabbily dressed 33-year-old Bronx race horse trainer. The FBI invaded a Bronx hospital last night and whisked him from a sickbed.

Later, a second man was picked up for questioning. The FBI withheld any information on him. Other sources, however, described him as an associate of Paisner's.

U. S. Atty. Paul W. Williams said:

"This man is being interrogated now by federal agents and we have high hopes for momentary developments."

Williams said Paisner gave an accomplice $55,000 for his aid in preliminary planning of the holdup. Paisner is charged with carrying out the actual stickup after the accomplice became frightened and withdrew from the planned robbery.

Williams quoted Paisner as saying:

"I don't want to identify my accomplice. I will have to live with myself a long time, and I imagine I will get a long jail sentence. You will get him quickly enough."

Floods, Tempest Batter East

Flood Waters Isolate Warren, Pa.

The main intersection of Warren, Pa., looked like this yesterday as rampaging waters of the Allegheny River rushed into that Pennsylvania community of 15,000, virtually isolating it. All highways into Warren were closed and authorities began evacuating 110 patients from the Warren General Hospital, only 40 yards from the river bank. Hundreds of families have been forced to flee their homes. (AP Photofax)

Weeks Declares Allies Demanded More Red Trade

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Weeks said today the United States had to agree to a relaxation of Western trade with Russia in 1954 because this country's West European allies insisted on it.

Weeks said the United States "made the best trade we could" in agreeing to cut down on export restrictions but he refused to tell investigating senators what recommendations were sent to U.S. negotiators at the Paris conference in 1954.

Probers Refused Documents

He also refused to give the Senate Investigations subcommittee any of the "working papers" prepared for inclusion in a U.S. policy group's final recommendations to the American negotiators in Paris.

In the face of some heated demands by subcommittee members, Weeks insisted this was information to which Congress is not entitled under the separation of powers doctrine.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), subcommittee chairman, said the information was needed to determine whether Harold E. Stassen, chief U.S. negotiator at Paris, "went against all of the recommendations and the best advice of the Defense Department" in agreeing to the new trade rules.

Stassen To Testify

McClellan contended U.S. concessions at Paris "went to the very destruction of security and peace" by making it possible for Russia to buy machine tools and other strategic goods from America's allies.

Weeks said Stassen, who was foreign aid administrator at the time, will be available for testimony tomorrow. McClelland indicated the subcommittee was not through with Weeks, however, and the secretary said he would return tomorrow if it does not conflict with the Friday Cabinet meeting.

Albania Intercepts Italian Freighter

GENOA, Italy, March 8 (AP)—A little Italian freighter was released today by Albanian authorities who stopped it with a warning shot from a gunboat and forced it into a naval base.

The 101-ton freighter Maresa Z was intercepted off the Albanian island of Saseno while en route to Ravenna with a cargo of grain from Bulgaria.

Pair Unexpected; One Born At Home, Other In Hospital

DANVILLE, Ill., March 8 (AP) — A 25-year-old housewife gave birth to a daughter at home today, went to a hospital for postnatal care, and gave birth to a son.

The mother, Mrs. Mary Davis, has two other children, aged 5 and 2. The birth of twins was unexpected.

At home she was attended by her husband, Francis, who helped deliver the 5-pound, 8-ounce girl and called an ambulance.

In St. Elizabeth's Hospital two hours later she gave birth to a 6-pound boy. The condition of the mother and twins is satisfactory.

Peace Emissary Reports To Eden On Jordan Trip

LONDON, March 8 (AP)—A retired British diplomat who helped create Jordan emerged tonight as a mysterious emissary in new peace moves to keep the little Middle East kingdom in the Western camp.

Sir Alexander Kirkbride gave Prime Minister Eden a personal report on a secret trip he made to Jordan after British Lt. Gen. John Baot Glubb was fired a week ago as commander of Jordan's Arab Legion.

Informed sources in Cairo reported Egypt, Saudi Arabia and Syria were ready to challenge Britain for control of Jordan's tough desert fighting force by underwriting the Arab Legion.

The Arab Legion was founded and financed by Britain, which is currently subsidizing it at a rate estimated at 30 million dollars a year. Though its 20,000 men make it little larger than an American infantry division, the Arab Legion is regarded as the best fighting unit in the Arab world.

The Arab Big Three—Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser, Saudi Arabian King Saud and Syrian President Shukri Kuwatly—pursued their strategy talks in Cairo.

Tension persisted along the flashpoint frontier dividing the armies of Israel and Egypt. Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, the United Nation's chief Palestine truce superviser, conferred in Cairo with Egyptian military leaders.

Egypt herself demanded an emergency meeting of the U.N. Mixed Armistice Commission in Gaza, charging Israeli warplanes flew over her territory.

DuPre Says He Received $8,900 From Land Sales

ROCKVILLE, Md., March 8 (AP)—Ben DuPre, fired State Roads Commission engineer, testified today that he reaped benefits of about $8,900 from the proceeds of land sold to the state for highway projects on which he worked.

ROCKVILLE, Md., March 8 (AP)—Ben DuPre, fired Maryland highway engineer, told a roads conspiracy trial today he received $3,000 from the proceeds of land sold to the State for a road project.

DuPre, who vanished last fall after his ouster, rocked the courtroom in a dramatic appearance as a prosecution witness. The State promised him immunity.

DuPre was dismissed last summer as a right-of-way engineer for the State Roads Commission after being accused of passing confidential information on new highway routes to land speculators. There were reports DuPre had fled to his native Mexico.

On trial are Constas Gus Basiliko and Max Offenberg, Washington real estate men. They, along with DuPre and two others, were indicted in November on charges of conspiracy to defraud the commission by manipulating land values.

DuPre's appearance and testimony for the State was the second surprise of the trial now in its fourth day. On Monday two other men named in the indictment — Jerry Goldberg and Robert J. Rosenfeld—were freed and made witnesses for the State.

The courtroom was electrified when the State produced DuPre. States Attorney Alger Y. Barbee told reporters DuPre had returned from Mexico City several weeks ago.

Barbee said the only way the State could get DuPre to return

Hundreds Flee Raging Waters In Pennsylvania

[By The Associated Press]

A late winter tempest pounded the eastern part of the nation from West Virginia to Canada Thursday with a furious bombardment of rain, hail, sleet and snow. Bursting rivers chased uncounted numbers — perhaps thousands — from homes.

Four deaths were attributed to the wild storm. Two were in New York, the others in Canada.

While its windpower in most instances was small, the tempest's powerful punch in other ways stirred memories of the hurricanes of recent years. Some of the same areas were walloped anew.

In the United Sttes, troubles stemmed mostly from new deluges of rain and snow on top of previous downpours for as many as four days.

Damage In Millions

Property damages ran high—most likely into millions of dollars.

Farms were inundated in New York and Pennsylvania; homes and stores were under water, and roads washed out.

Floods and snow downed power and telephone lines in many parts of the Northeast. Airline flights were halted or delayed. Hundreds of schools were closed.

But the northwestern Pennsylvania city of Warren, which has 15,000 residents, apparently was the hardest hit spot of all. All roads leading into the city were cut.

The flood-swollen Allegheny River swept over its banks there, reaching a near-record level of 18 feet. Flood stage is 14 feet.

Hospital Evacuated

Within the city, the Warren General Hospital also was ringed by water, which soon began gushing into the first floor. Officials were evacuating the 110 patients, including seven newborn babies, by boat.

The Allegheny and other streams in the area drove hundreds of residents to higher and drier ground.

Further up the Allegheny in New York State, the river also wreaked havoc at Salamanca and in surrounding territory.

Russia Cuts Work Week To 46 Hours

MOSCOW, March 8 (AP)—The Soviet Union today cut two hours off the standard 48-hour work week.

The Presidium of the Supreme Soviet moved quickly to implement the demand Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev made before the 20th party Congress. The Presidium called for a 6-hour work day on Saturdays and days preceding four recognized holidays. The 8-hour schedule continues on other days.

Council ministers, headed by Premier Nikolai Bulganin, then spelled out a program in accordance with the decree.

The new work schedule will go into effect Saturday. The Council said salaried workers would not have their monthly wage rate cut.

Planes To Haul Meat

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP)—Bolivia is reported planning to buy eight B17 bomber planes from the U. S. government to relieve a meat shortage.

The planes would be used to bring dressed beef from the ranch area of northeast Bolivia to the populous area around La Paz.

Searchers Find Burned Oil Exploration Boat, 4 Bodies

ABBEVILLE, La., March 8 (AP)—Searchers today found the bodies of four men dead in their life-jackets on the south shore of Vermilion Bay. A fifth victim of the tragedy was still sought.

Radio reports from the isolated swampy scene were sketchy, but indicated their small workboat exploded, burned and capsized.

The victims were identified by funeral home employes here as Henry Frith of Kaplan, La., Henry Durr, of Intercoastal City, La., Raymond Polombo of Abbeville, La., and Barry Ratcliffe of Brookhaven, Miss. Still sought was Gordon Milner of Eunice, La.

The men, all in their early 20s, were employed by the Delta Exploration Co. of Jackson, Miss., and were headquartered here.

Deputy Sheriff Vincent Milner said Frank Lee, head of the exploration company, became concerned yesterday afternoon when the vessel failed to return to Abbeville headquarters after the day's work.

Tom Carson, head of the company's Abbeville office, said the search by company boats continued through the night and into the afternoon. He said the company had no ship-to-shore radio communications.

The Coast Guard reported the vessel burned to the water's edge, but Carson said he had no reports on the damage. It was not known how the boat caught fire.

It was not known definitely, he said, whether the men died of drowning or exposure. Reports indicated the men were "fairly close together" he said.

Senate Kills Democratic Drive, 54-41

Backers Of Flexible Plan, Including Ike, Hail Major Victory

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP) — The Senate today defeated a Democratic drive to have cotton, corn and peanut crops supported at 90 per cent of parity. It was a major victory for President Eisenhower.

The vote on this key section of the election-year farm bill was 54-41.

All 95 members of the Senate (there is one vacancy) were on hand for the test. Sen. Millikin (R-Colo), who has been ill for several weeks, showed up in a wheelchair to vote with the administration forces.

Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson want Congress to retain the flexible system of farm price supports established in 1954. This permits the government to support basic crops at from 70 to 90 per cent of parity, according to supply conditions.

President "Delighted"

Murray Snyder, presidential press aide, described President Eisenhower as "delighted" by the Senate vote. Secretary of Agriculture Benson said he wished to "commend the Senate highly."

With the question decided for three of the basic crops, the Senate was expected to act quickly on similar moves to knock out high, rigid supports for wheat, rice and dairy products written into the farm bill by the Democratic-controlled Agriculture Committee.

Just before the vote was taken, Sen. Kerr (D-Okla) told the senators that if they rejected 90 per cent supports "you tear the very guts out of this bill as far as any benefit to the individual farmers goes."

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) said Benson had been lobbying the Senate for the administration's flexible support system. He accused him of offering "special deals" on cotton, corn and other farm products, and said:

"I charge he is guilty of unprincipled actions."

Party Lineup On Vote

Forty-one Republicans and 13 Democrats voted for the amendment by Sen. Anderson (D-NM) to knock highly pegged price supports for cotton, corn and peanuts out of the omnibus bill.

Thirty-five Democrats and six Republicans opposed the amendment.

The 13 Democratic senators who voted against a return to the 90 per cent of parity supports which prevailed during World War II were:

Anderson (NM), Bible (Nev), Byrd (Va), Eastland (Miss), Frear (Del), Green (RI), Hayden (Ariz), Holland (Fla), Kennedy (Mass), Pastore (RI), Robertson (Va), Smathers (Fla) and Stennis (Miss).

A few hours in advance of the voting it was disclosed that Benson is in favor of supporting cotton at around 87 per cent of parity and continuing the present acreage allotment in 1957 if the administration gets what it wants in a farm bill.

Westinghouse Strike Reaches New Impasse

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP) — Negotiations in the 144-day-old Westinghouse strike reached a new stalemate tonight after the union refused to accept government-proposed settlement terms in full.

Company negotiators planned to return to Pittsburgh.

The Westinghouse officials said they probably would fly back tonight. They said they had no plans at the moment for further bargaining and there was no point in staying longer.

The striking AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers —IUE—reported to the company and government mediators that it could not accept full terms of a company-okayed peace proposal.

This apparently left the union, company, and government undecided on their next moves after a four-hour conference here tonight.

Director Joseph Finnegan of the Federal Mediation Service said the government's attitude was that the settlement plan was fair to both sides and it was up to the parties either to take it or leave it, or work out any changes they deemed necessary.

Williams said Paisner gave an accomplice $55,000 for his aid in preliminary planning of the holdup. Paisner is charged with carrying out the actual stickup after the accomplice became frightened and withdrew from the planned robbery.

Williams quoted Paisner as saying:

"I don't want to identify my accomplice. I will have to live with myself a long time, and I imagine I will get a long jail sentence. You will get him quickly enough."

Floods, Tempest Batter East

Flood Waters Isolate Warren, Pa.

The main intersection of Warren, Pa., looked like this yesterday as rampaging waters of the Allegheny River rushed into that Pennsylvania community of 15,000, virtually isolating it. All highways into Warren were closed and authorities began evacuating 110 patients from the Warren General Hospital, only 40 yards from the river bank. Hundreds of families have been forced to flee their homes. (AP Photofax)

Hundreds Flee Raging Waters In Pennsylvania

[By The Associated Press]

A late winter tempest pounded the eastern part of the nation from West Virginia to Canada Thursday with a furious bombardment of rain, hail, sleet and snow. Bursting rivers chased uncounted numbers — perhaps thousands — from homes.

Four deaths were attributed to the wild storm. Two were in New York, the others in Canada.

While its windpower in most instances was small, the tempest's powerful punch in other ways stirred memories of the hurricanes of recent years. Some of the same areas were walloped anew.

In the United Sttes, troubles stemmed mostly from new deluges of rain and snow on top of previous downpours for as many as four days.

Damage In Millions

Property damages ran high—most likely into millions of dollars.

Farms were inundated in New York and Pennsylvania; homes and stores were under water, and roads washed out.

Floods and snow downed power and telephone lines in many parts of the Northeast. Airline flights were halted or delayed. Hundreds of schools were closed.

But the northwestern Pennsylvania city of Warren, which has 15,000 residents, apparently was the hardest hit spot of all. All roads leading into the city were cut.

The flood-swollen Allegheny River swept over its banks there, reaching a near-record level of 18 feet. Flood stage is 14 feet.

Hospital Evacuated

Within the city, the Warren General Hospital also was ringed by water, which soon began gushing into the first floor. Officials were evacuating the 110 patients, including seven newborn babies, by boat.

The Allegheny and other streams in the area drove hundreds of residents to higher and drier ground.

Weeks Declares Allies Demanded More Red Trade

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Weeks said today the United States had to agree to a relaxation of Western trade with Russia in 1954 because this country's West European allies insisted on it.

Weeks said the United States "made the best trade we could" in agreeing to cut down on export restrictions but he refused to tell investigating senators what recommendations were sent to U.S. negotiators at the Paris conference in 1954.

Probers Refused Documents

He also refused to give the Senate Investigations subcommittee any of the "working papers" prepared for inclusion in a U.S. policy group's final recommendations to the American negotiators in Paris.

In the face of some heated demands by subcommittee members, Weeks insisted this was information to which Congress is not entitled under the separation of powers doctrine.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), subcommittee chairman, said the information was needed to determine whether Harold E. Stassen, chief U.S. negotiator at Paris, "went against all of the recommendations and the best advice of the Defense Department" in agreeing to the new trade rules.

Stassen To Testify

McClellan contended U.S. concessions at Paris "went to the very destruction of security and peace" by making it possible for Russia to buy machine tools and other strategic goods from America's allies.

Weeks said Stassen, who was foreign aid administrator at the time, will be available for testimony tomorrow. McClelland indicated the subcommittee was not through with Weeks, however, and the secretary said he would return tomorrow if it does not conflict with the Friday Cabinet meeting.

Albania Intercepts Italian Freighter

GENOA, Italy, March 8 (AP)—A little Italian freighter was released today by Albanian authorities who stopped it with a warning shot from a gunboat and forced it into a naval base.

The 101-ton freighter Maresa Z was intercepted off the Albanian island of Saseno while en route to Ravenna with a cargo of grain from Bulgaria.

Pair Unexpected; One Born At Home, Other In Hospital

DANVILLE, Ill., March 8 (AP) — A 25-year-old housewife gave birth to a daughter at home today, went to a hospital for postnatal care, and gave birth to a son.

The mother, Mrs. Mary Davis, has two other children, aged 5 and 2. The birth of twins was unexpected.

At home she was attended by her husband, Francis, who helped deliver the 5-pound, 8-ounce girl and called an ambulance.

In St. Elizabeth's Hospital two hours later she gave birth to a 6-pound boy. The condition of the mother and twins is satisfactory.

Peace Emissary Reports To Eden On Jordan Trip

LONDON, March 8 (AP)—A retired British diplomat who helped create Jordan emerged tonight as a mysterious emissary in new peace moves to keep the little Middle East kingdom in the Western camp.

Sir Alexander Kirkbride gave Prime Minister Eden a personal report on a secret trip he made to Jordan after British Lt. Gen. John Baot Glubb was fired a week ago as commander of Jordan's Arab Legion.

Informed sources in Cairo reported Egypt, Saudi Arabia and Syria were ready to challenge Britain for control of Jordan's tough desert fighting force by underwriting the Arab Legion.

The Arab Legion was founded and financed by Britain, which is currently subsidizing it at a rate estimated at 30 million dollars a year. Though its 20,000 men make it little larger than an American infantry division, the Arab Legion is regarded as the best fighting unit in the Arab world.

The Arab Big Three—Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser, Saudi Arabian King Saud and Syrian President Shukri Kuwatly—pursued their strategy talks in Cairo.

Tension persisted along the flashpoint frontier dividing the armies of Israel and Egypt. Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, the United Nation's chief Palestine truce superviser, conferred in Cairo with Egyptian military leaders.

Egypt herself demanded an emergency meeting of the U.N. Mixed Armistice Commission in Gaza, charging Israeli warplanes flew over her territory.

DuPre Says He Received $8,900 From Land Sales

ROCKVILLE, Md., March 8 (AP)—Ben DuPre, fired State Roads Commission engineer, testified today that he reaped benefits of about $8,900 from the proceeds of land sold to the state for highway projects on which he worked.

ROCKVILLE, Md., March 8 (AP)—Ben DuPre, fired Maryland highway engineer, told a roads conspiracy trial today he received $3,000 from the proceeds of land sold to the State for a road project.

DuPre, who vanished last fall after his ouster, rocked the courtroom in a dramatic appearance as a prosecution witness. The State promised him immunity.

DuPre was dismissed last summer as a right-of-way engineer for the State Roads Commission after being accused of passing confidential information on new highway routes to land speculators. There were reports DuPre had fled to his native Mexico.

On trial are Constas Gus Basiliko and Max Offenberg, Washington real estate men. They, along with DuPre and two others, were indicted in November on charges of conspiracy to defraud the commission by manipulating land values.

DuPre's appearance and testimony for the State was the second surprise of the trial now in its fourth day. On Monday two other men named in the indictment — Jerry Goldberg and Robert J. Rosenfeld—were freed and made witnesses for the State.

The courtroom was electrified when the State produced DuPre. States Attorney Alger Y. Barbee told reporters DuPre had returned from Mexico City several weeks ago.

Barbee said the only way the State could get DuPre to return

Russia Cuts Work Week To 46 Hours

MOSCOW, March 8 (AP)—The Soviet Union today cut two hours off the standard 48-hour work week.

The Presidium of the Supreme Soviet moved quickly to implement the demand Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev made before the 20th party Congress. The Presidium called for a 6-hour work day on Saturdays and days preceding four recognized holidays. The 8-hour schedule continues on other days.

Council ministers, headed by Premier Nikolai Bulganin, then spelled out a program in accordance with the decree.

The new work schedule will go into effect Saturday. The Council said salaried workers would not have their monthly wage rate cut.

Planes To Haul Meat

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP)—Bolivia is reported planning to buy eight B17 bomber planes from the U. S. government to relieve a meat shortage.

Searchers Find Burned Oil Exploration Boat, 4 Bodies

ABBEVILLE, La., March 8 (AP)—Searchers today found the bodies of four men dead in their life-jackets on the south shore of Vermilion Bay. A fifth victim of the tragedy was still sought.

Radio reports from the isolated swampy scene were sketchy, but indicated their small workboat exploded, burned and capsized.

The victims were identified by funeral home employes here as Henry Frith of Kaplan, La., Henry Durr, of Intercoastal City, La., Raymond Polombo of Abbeville, La., and Barry Ratcliffe of Brookhaven, Miss. Still sought was Gordon Milner of Eunice, La.

The men, all in their early 20s, were employed by the Delta Exploration Co. of Jackson, Miss., and were headquartered here.

Deputy Sheriff Vincent Milner said Frank Lee, head of the exploration company, became concerned yesterday afternoon when the vessel failed to return to Abbeville headquarters after the day's work.

Tom Carson, head of the company's Abbeville office, said the search by company boats continued through the night and into the afternoon. He said the company had no ship-to-shore radio communications.

The Coast Guard reported the vessel burned to the water's edge, but Carson said he had no reports on the damage. It was not known how the boat caught fire.

It was not known definitely, he said, whether the men died of drowning or exposure. Reports indicated the men were "fairly close together" he said.

Senate Kills Democratic Drive, 54-41

Backers Of Flexible Plan, Including Ike, Hail Major Victory

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP) — The Senate today defeated a Democratic drive to have cotton, corn and peanut crops supported at 90 per cent of parity. It was a major victory for President Eisenhower.

The vote on this key section of the election-year farm bill was 54-41.

All 95 members of the Senate (there is one vacancy) were on hand for the test. Sen. Millikin (R-Colo), who has been ill for several weeks, showed up in a wheelchair to vote with the administration forces.

Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson want Congress to retain the flexible system of farm price supports established in 1954. This permits the government to support basic crops at from 70 to 90 per cent of parity, according to supply conditions.

President "Delighted"

Murray Snyder, presidential press aide, described President Eisenhower as "delighted" by the Senate vote. Secretary of Agriculture Benson said he wished to "commend the Senate highly."

With the question decided for three of the basic crops, the Senate was expected to act quickly on similar moves to knock out high, rigid supports for wheat, rice and dairy products written into the farm bill by the Democratic-controlled Agriculture Committee.

Just before the vote was taken, Sen. Kerr (D-Okla) told the senators that if they rejected 90 per cent supports "you tear the very guts out of this bill as far as any benefit to the individual farmers goes."

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) said Benson had been lobbying the Senate for the administration's flexible support system. He accused him of offering "special deals" on cotton, corn and other farm products, and said:

"I charge he is guilty of unprincipled actions."

Party Lineup On Vote

Forty-one Republicans and 13 Democrats voted for the amendment by Sen. Anderson (D-NM) to knock highly pegged price supports for cotton, corn and peanuts out of the omnibus bill.

Thirty-five Democrats and six Republicans opposed the amendment.

The 13 Democratic senators who voted against a return to the 90 per cent of parity supports which prevailed during World War II were:

Anderson (NM), Bible (Nev), Byrd (Va), Eastland (Miss), Frear (Del), Green (RI), Hayden (Ariz), Holland (Fla), Kennedy (Mass), Pastore (RI), Robertson (Va), Smathers (Fla) and Stennis (Miss).

A few hours in advance of the voting it was disclosed that Benson is in favor of supporting cotton at around 87 per cent of parity and continuing the present acreage allotment in 1957 if the administration gets what it wants in a farm bill.

Westinghouse Strike Reaches New Impasse

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP) — Negotiations in the 144-day-old Westinghouse strike reached a new stalemate tonight after the union refused to accept government-proposed settlement terms in full.

Company negotiators planned to return to Pittsburgh.

The Westinghouse officials said they probably would fly back tonight. They said they had no plans at the moment for further bargaining and there was no point in staying longer.

The striking AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers —IUE—reported to the company and government mediators that it could not accept full terms of a company-okayed peace proposal.

This apparently left the union, company, and government undecided on their next moves after a four-hour conference here tonight.

Director Joseph Finnegan of the Federal Mediation Service said the government's attitude was that the settlement plan was fair to both sides and it was up to the parties either to take it or leave it, or work out any changes they deemed necessary.

Former Official Denies Stealing From Loan Firm

NORFOLK, Va., March 8 (AP)—Minnie Mangum denied today she embezzled money from the Commonwealth Building and Loan Assn. It was her public statement on guilt or innocence.

Miss Mangum, former assistant secretary-treasurer of the now defunct loan association, has been charged with grand larceny of $174,000 from Commonwealth. Her case will be presented to a grand jury in April or May.

Auditors still working on Commonwealth's books have reported they have discovered shortages approximating $2,919,000.

The 53-year-old defendant's denial today was contained in an answer filed in U. S. District Court of allegations made in a suit filed Feb. 16 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp.

That suit alleged that Miss Mangum diverted $176,549.58 from Commonwealth to the widow and child of her brother, Jesse Chandler Mangum. That suit named as defendants Adele B. Mangum, Jesse Chandler Mangum's widow; Jesse Chandler Mangum Jr.; Minnie Mangum as administratix of her late brother's estate and as trustee for his son.

Today's answer was filed on behalf of Miss Mangum as administratix of the estate and as trustee for her brother's son. It was filed also on behalf of Adele Mangum as trustee for her son. The answer denies the allegation that Miss Mangum "over a period of years embezzled funds (of Commonwealth) in a large amount by diverting the same to her own use and benefit and the use and benefit of others including the defendants to this suit."

55 Persons Killed In Algerian Violence

ALGIERS, Algeria, March 8 (AP)—French authorities reported 55 persons were killed by violence in Algeria today. Among them were eight French farmers shot down in their homes by rebel bands.

Seven of the farmers were killed in a series of rebel raids on isolated farms near Palestro, about 30 miles southeast of Algiers. Twenty-two suspected rebels were killed in a roundup by French forces in the area.

Urey Agrees U. S. A-Bomb Stockpile Dwarfs Soviet's

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP)—Dr. Harold C. Urey said today it may be a "good guess" that the United States now has enough nuclear material to make 35,000 atomic bombs and the Russians enough for 10,000.

Urey, a Nobel prize-winning chemist, helped develop the original A-bombs.

Urey, who is with the University of Chicago, appeared before a House subcommittee looking into the government's handling of information matters, including release of science information.

He made it plain that he has not been in secret government work since World War II.

But he said "perhaps this is a good guess" in commenting upon an estimate published by the Manchester Guardian, a leading British newspaper, on the size of the nuclear stockpiles of various countries. The Guardian estimated last month that the U.S. stockpile could produce 35,000 A-bombs; the Russian stockpile around 10,000.

Urey used the estimate to emphasize his statement that an exchange of information between Russia and the United States "would result in very little valuable information being acquired by either."

Urey, Dr. William V. Houston, president of Rice Institute, and Dr. Donald J. Hughes, senior physicist at the Brookhaven National Laboratory, where among prominent scientists who have told the committee they believe too much government secrecy has slowed the nation's scientific progress.

Housewife Ends Sitdown Strike In Courthouse

HAMILTON, Ohio, March 8 (AP)—Mrs. Thomas Cooney ended late today her one-woman sitdown strike in the Butler County Courthouse.

She went home voluntarily and said it was "for my husband who doesn't like the publicity."

Mrs. Cooney's 30-hour sojourn in the office of the county building commissioner, Randell Coning, was in protest of the construction of a one-story concerete block building in the area where she lives in Dixie Heights, a suburb of nearby Middletown.

She claimed the building was going to be used for business purposes in a residential district.

Coning said Clinton Centers, the builder, had obtained a permit for the building as a dwelling and that "unless he violates the code, there is nothing we can do."

Mrs. Cooney, 48, sat through last night in a chair in Coning's office. Her feet were propped on another chair. She had an overnight case which contained soap, towels, tooth brush and "other essentials."

Today, members of the County Commission told her she would be evicted if she tried to stay tonight.

She first said she'd stay right on the job.

Baby Killed In Auto Crash Near Uniontown

UNIONTOWN, Pa., March 8 (AP)—Donald Carter, five-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Carter of RD 1 Bel Air, Md., was killed today when an auto driven by his father skidded into a parked truck on Route 40 near Markleysburg.

The 21-year-old Carter and his wife, Hazel, 16, were taken to Uniontown Hospital. They were reported in fair condition.

Police said the Carter auto skidded on the wet pavement and ran into a parked state highways department truck. They said two other cars piled into the wreckage. The drivers, who police said were not injured, were Joseph Yates, 65, of Canonsburg, and William Clister, 39, of Markleysburg.

Worker Impaled On Two Steel Rods

MIAMI, Fla., March 8 (AP) — A worker was impaled on two steel rods when a scaffold collapse today dropped him 12 feet.

Darrel L. Ernest, 30, of Hollywood, was extricated from a pit by workers who reported he was calm during the ordeal, saying only "Sure appreciate that."

The three-eighths-inch rods were cut from their cement bases to free Ernest. One rod pierced his left hip, emerging through his right side; The other his left shoulder and back.

His condition was listed as critical.

Hammarskjold Sees No Middle East War

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., March 8 (AP) — Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold today minimized the possibility of immediate war in the Middle East. He said a Security Council meeting on the issues there could accomplish little.

Hammarskjold, who returned recently from a trip around the world, including the Middle East, gave his views in answer to questions from newsmen at a U. N. Correspondents Assn. Luncheon.

He declared the situation "does involve risks." But he also said analysis would show that the nations involved, "serving their own interests, must arrive at conclusions which exclude the initiative of war."

He said the U.N. in the Middle East is playing "the role of a nurse for a patient." Sometimes the attentions of a nurse are more important for the recovery than drastic surgery, he commented.

DuPre Says

was to promise him immunity. "Because of the very nature of a conspiracy case which is so close and secretive," the prosecutor said, "we could not make our case without DuPre's testimony."

Defense attorneys were overruled on their motion for a mistrial and DuPre was called to the witness stand.

He testified he had made an agreement with Basiliko to provide him information on properties in the path of new roads that could be acquired and sold for a profit to the roads commission.

"Mr. Gus Basiliko and I would agree that . . . he would receive a 10 per cent fee for such work and that later it would be split between us," DuPre testified.

W. Va. Political Figure Indicted For Tax Evasion

FAIRMONT, W. Va., March 8 (AP)—A surprise income tax evasion indictment against Democratic political figure Homer W. Hanna of Charleston was returned late today by a federal grand jury.

The grand jury in U. S. Court for Northern West Virginia returned a six-count indictment charging Hanna with evading payment of $31,777 in income taxes for the years 1949 through 1953. Hanna is clerk of the U. S. District Court for Southern West Virginia.

There is one count for each of the five years, plus an additional 1950 count covering an amended return. The indictment charges that Hanna, in joint returns filed on behalf of himself and his wife, reported income totaling $35,644 and tax due in the amount of $20,039 for the five years.

Actual joint income for the period was alleged to have been $165,417 and the tax due $51,816, leaving a tax deficiency of $31,777.

Hanna, who is 60, has been clerk of the Southern District Federal Court since Sept. 1, 1944. Before that he held posts in the state government as director of the Department of Unemployment Compensation and Employment Security and director of the Department of Public Assistance. His son, Homer W. Hanna, Jr., is chairman of the Public Service Commission.

The elder Hanna first came into statewide political prominence in 1940 when he managed the state campaign which elected Matthew M. Neely governor and the late Harley M. Kilgore to the U. S. Senate.

An influential behind-the-scenes figure in state Democratic politics, Hanna has been closely allied with the administration of Gov. William C. Marland.

HAMILTON, Ohio, March 8 (AP)— Mrs. Thomas Cooney ended late today her one-woman sitdown strike in the Butler County Courthouse.

She went home voluntarily and said it was "for my husband who doesn't like the publicity."

Mrs. Cooney's 30-hour sojourn in the office of the county building commissioner, Randell Coning, was in protest of the construction of a one-story concerete block building in the area where she lives in Dixie Heights, a suburb of nearby Middletown.

She claimed the building was going to be used for business purposes in a residential district.

Coning said Clinton Centers, the builder, had obtained a permit for the building as a dwelling and that "unless he violates the code, there is nothing we can do."

Mrs. Cooney, 48, sat through last night in a chair in Coning's office. Her feet were propped on another chair. She had an overnight case which contained soap, towels, tooth brush and "other essentials."

Today, members of the County Commission told her she would be evicted if she tried to stay tonight.

She first said she'd stay right on the job.

Baby Killed In Auto Crash Near Uniontown

UNIONTOWN, Pa., March 8 (AP) — Donald Carter, five-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Carter of RD 1 Bel Air, Md., was killed today when an auto driven by his father skidded into a parked truck on Route 40 near Markleysburg.

The 21-year-old Carter and his wife, Hazel, 16, were taken to Uniontown Hospital. They were reported in fair condition.

Police said the Carter auto skidded on the wet pavement and ran into a parked state highways department truck. They said two other cars piled into the wreckage. The drivers, who police said were not injured, were Joseph Yates, 65, of Canonsburg, and William Clister, 39, of Markleysburg.

Worker Impaled On Two Steel Rods

MIAMI, Fla., March 8 (AP) — A worker was impaled on two steel rods when a scaffold collapse today dropped him 12 feet.

Darrel L. Ernest, 30, of Hollywood, was extricated from a pit by workers who reported he was calm during the ordeal, saying only "Sure appreciate that."

The three-eighths-inch rods were cut from their cement bases to free Ernest. One rod pierced his left hip, emerging through his right side; The other his left shoulder and back.

His condition was listed as critical.

Hammarskjold Sees No Middle East War

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., March 8 (AP) — Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold today minimized the possibility of immediate war in the Middle East. He said a Security Council meeting on the issues there could accomplish little.

Hammarskjold, who returned recently from a trip around the world, including the Middle East, gave his views in answer to questions from newsmen at a U. N. Correspondents Assn. Luncheon.

He declared the situation "does involve risks." But he also said analysis would show that the nations involved, "serving their own interests, must arrive at conclusions which exclude the initiative of war."

He said the U.N. in the Middle East is playing "the role of a nurse for a patient." Sometimes the attentions of a nurse are more important for the recovery than drastic surgery, he commented.

was to promise him immunity. "Because of the very nature of a conspiracy case which is so close and secretive," the prosecutor said, "we could not make our case without DuPre's testimony."

Defense attorneys were overruled on their motion for a mistrial and DuPre was called to the witness stand.

He testified he had made an agreement with Basiliko to provide him information on properties in the path of new roads that could be acquired and sold for a profit to the roads commission.

"Mr. Gus Basiliko and I would agree that . . . he would receive a 10 per cent fee for such work and that later it would be split between us," DuPre testified.

W. Va. Political Figure Indicted For Tax Evasion

FAIRMONT, W. Va., March 8 (AP) —A surprise income tax evasion indictment against Democratic political figure Homer W. Hanna of Charleston was returned late today by a federal grand jury.

The grand jury in U. S. Court for Northern West Virginia returned a six-count indictment charging Hanna with evading payment of $31,777 in income taxes for the years 1949 through 1953. Hanna is clerk of the U. S. District Court for Southern West Virginia.

There is one count for each of the five years, plus an additional 1950 count covering an amended return. The indictment charges that Hanna, in joint returns filed on behalf of himself and his wife, reported income totaling $35,644 and tax due in the amount of $20,039 for the five years.

Actual joint income for the period was alleged to have been $165,417 and the tax due $51,816, leaving a tax deficiency of $31,777.

Hanna, who is 60, has been clerk of the Southern District Federal Court since Sept. 1, 1944. Before that he held posts in the state government as director of the Department of Unemployment Compensation and Employment Security and director of the Department of Public Assistance. His son, Homer W. Hanna, Jr., is chairman of the Public Service Commission.

The elder Hanna first came into statewide political prominence in 1940 when he managed the state campaign which elected Matthew M. Neely governor and the late Harley M. Kilgore to the U. S. Senate.

An influential behind-the-scenes figure in state Democratic politics, Hanna has been closely allied with the administration of Gov. William C. Marland.

Eisenhower's Decision To Run Again Brings Peace On Surface To Calif. GOP

By MORRIE LANDSBERG

SACRAMENTO, March 8 (AP) — President Eisenhower's announcement he would run again has brought surface peace to California Republicans.

It united, with a giant hurrah, partisans who otherwise would have been divided among Vice President Nixon, Sen. William F. Knowland and Gov. Goodwin J. Knight.

Now they have joined to form a single delegation pledged to cast California's 70 votes for Eisenhower at the national convention in San Francisco next August.

The harmony hasn't quenched all the rivalries that flame up in California Republican circles, nor has it answered all the questions.

GOP leaders are thankful enough for avoiding an open clash between Knight and Knowland and probably Nixon as well in the June 5 presidential primary. The Republican balloting now will be nothing more than a popularity poll for Eisenhower.

"What about Nixon?" you ask. So does everyone else.

A quick answer, to be elaborated on, is: Don't count on a strong stop-Nixon movement in California. If Eisenhower wants the state's former junior senator on the ticket again, California's delegation will go along.

What you can look for is an important and perhaps vital choice by the Democratic voters between Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver.

No definite trend has been established, but many people are beginning to think Stevenson has a serious fight on his hands.

At stake are 68 convention votes. It's the largest single bloc of Democratic convention votes in any of the primaries in which the two candidates are entered. Their backers are aware the California outcome could be decisive toward the nomination if they emerge fairly even from the other contests.

As it stands this early, Stevenson has the state party machinery back of him. This may be almost matched by the enthusiasm and drive of the Kefauver organization. Kefauver is planning to devote four one-week periods touring the big states for votes.

Stevenson supporters consider him the front runner as the party's nominee who rolled up 2,187,548 votes four years ago (against 2,-897,310 for Eisenhower). Delancy C. Smith of San Francisco, a member of Kefauver's six-man national policy committee, says, however:

"All signs point to a great shift in public sentiment to our candidate."

Kefauver captured the 1952 California delegation by better than a 2-1 margin over a slate pledged to no candidate. Party regulars, marooned by President Truman's withdrawal, turned to a hastily formed ticket headed by State Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown. Their campaign was hardly vigorous.

Brown, state chairman for Stevenson, now has rounded up practically every Democratic leader in favor of the former Illinois governor. Both the Stevenson and Kefauver slates actually carry 136 delegates, each with half a vote.

Traffic Accidents Drop

MEXICO CITY, March 8 (AP) — The Transit Department reports traffic accidents for January-February in this capital are 10 per cent below the first two months of 1955. It credits new traffic lights and stricter law enforcement.

$174,562,214 Spent By Tourists In W.Va.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 8 (AP) — The State Industrial and Publicity Commission said that an estimated $174,562,214 tourists spent in West Virginia last year was the second highest such figure on record here.

The annual tourist summary is based primarily on traffic counts on various highways in the state, and on information cards distributed by the Conservation Department, motels, hotels and other agencies to tourists.

Ignoring Traffic Tickets Costly To Banana Peddler

NEW YORK, March 8 (AP) — A Brooklyn banana peddler with a bunch of unanswered traffic tickets was sentenced yesterday to 30 days in jail and fined $1,250.

If 22-year-old Anthony Guidice cannot pay the fine, he faces an additional 125 days in jail for failing to answer 28 tickets in two years and ignoring a six-week amnesty period that ended Feb. 29.

Muscovites Flock To See Film About U.S.

MOSCOW, March 8 (AP)—Muscovites are flocking to three movie theaters to see a color travelogue picturing sights of America in a favorable light.

The film is entitled "San Francisco, Chicago and New York" and was shot in those three cities last summer by a Soviet photographer identified only by his last name, Kalitsin.

It opens with shots of San Francisco used-car lots while the commentator tells about the American custom of trading in old cars for new. It presents shots of San Francisco's Chinatown and Negro district. The commentator explains that 10 per cent of the American population is colored but he makes no disparaging remarks about race prejudice.

The film also shows Harlem as seen from the elevated New York Central Railway tracks—but again no unfavorable remarks are made.

Russian spectators who saw the film were chary about expressing their views but several said: "There ought to have been more. We want to see more."

NEW YORK, March 8 (INS) — People . . . places . . . things . . .

"A toy," said Louis Marx, "is one of the few objects on earth that has no connection with an 'ism. It is the least least common denominator. You don't give a toy to a Protestant, Catholic or Jewish child. You give it to a child.

"A king with billions can bring a shout of delight from a child by giving it a toy. But no more of a shout than if the donor is a poor man in rags. A man giving a toy to a child is a man at his very best. He doesn't get any better than at that moment."

Marx, dubbed Toycoon by Louis Sobol, is a remarkable man. He has a more enduring thirst for knowledge than any person of my acquaintance. After a full day of running the biggest toy business in the world, he and his wife attend bewilderingly specialized college courses each night. For years he has learned one new word a day and shared the word and its meaning with his children. Marx' own favorite toy among the thousands of items his companies put together is a set of statuettes of the presidents of the U. S. He has sold 80,000,000 of these figures and probably has taught millions of Americans the correct succession of the presidents for the first time.

Can there be anything more heartwarming than a friendship when one is sick? Hear, then, a story of such friendship and loving concern:

One of the best men INS has ever had and ever will, Lou Allwell, is at Memorial Hospital here in New York. He needs blood. Torrents of it. The word spread through the myriad wires of INS to all parts of the country and the world. The response from our bureaus was instantaneous, overwhelming. Lou Allwell functions today with a greater variety of blood than perhaps has ever circulated in one body. If some of it pours like scotch, Lou will understand. The "no visitors" sign can come down from his door now and then, because of that blood.

And in nearby Sloan-Kettering Institute lights burn night and day to illumine the search of men and women in white for the answer to the villainous malady that strikes the Lou Allwells of the world. He'd best stay around. Because one day, maybe soon, it will come like a bolt from the merciful blue.

Ever wonder what happens to old F.B.I. agents? Well, for one thing, they never seem to get old. At a dinner of the Society of Former Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Inc., the other night one got the feeling of attending a college fraternity meeting.

A quick poll of the room showed that former G-men now include judges, bankers, executives, ranchers, governors, congressmen, builders, oil men, lawyers, insurance men, real estaters, movie and TV workers, private eyes, labor relations experts, accountants, liquor distributors, police, public relations men, publishers, cosmeticians, government officials, propagandists and undertakers.

Sixteen years ago the Boeing company turned over to TWA five of the first four-engined land planes built for passenger service in this country. They were called stratoliners and brought new luxury and safety to long-distance flying. The Army took them from TWA after Pearl Harbor and put them into VIP service. One of them took F. D. R. to the Casablanca conference. Four years and countless miles later, the five planes were returned to TWA. The line put six more years of service on them and then sold them to a French airline named Aigle Azur. The planes are still flying . . . in Indochina.

P. S.—Boeing is now building the four-jet 707 which flies three times as fast and just as far as the pride of 1940. But the plane names haven't kept pace. The jet has been given the same name as its matronly forebear—Stratoliner. It hopes to fare as well.

Jr. Civic Club Guest Night To Be April 4; Foote Speaks

A "Guest Night and Fun Night" in conjunction with the April meeting were discussed at the meeting of the Junior Woman's Civic Club, Wednesday evening at Seifert's Furniture Store. Mrs. John MacVeigh presided.

The slate of officers will be presented at a brief business session April 4. Also, the club will vote on a change of date for installation of officers. The affair will be at the Girl Scout house. During the social part of the evening it is planned to hold a sale and have a palmist. Members are asked to call Mrs. Edward Sololowski as to the number of guests they are bringing.

An invitation was received from the Chevy Chase Junior Women's Club to attend the reciprocity night March 15. Those interested in attending are asked to contact Mrs. MacVeigh.

One guest attended, Mrs. George Fisk.

Theodore P. Foote, art supervisor of county schools, addressed the club on "Basic Interior Decorations and New Ideas in the Field of Interior Decorations." In explaining the basic things to keep in mind when entering on a "do it yourself" decorating, whether to be over a period of weeks or years, he listed five things to keep in mind: line, form, color, texture and space. He went into detail with each and emphasized the importance of making an actual scale model of a room or house to be decorated. Mr. Foote advised making a file of pictures in magazines which appeal to one, so as to be able to refer to them later.

Following his talk, Mr. Foote illustrated the points he made with colored slides.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Joseph Pellerzi, Mrs. Conrad Hohing Jr., Mrs. Raymond Lapp, Mrs. Sokolowski, Mrs. William Holbrook and Mrs. Paul Morgan.

Another article on "What Price Beauty" was presented by Mrs. Mary Jane Park, Miss Joan Minke, and Mrs. Helen Walters. A period of silent prayer was held, and a pre-Easter meditation was given by Mrs. Louella Martin. The service concluded with the group singing "My Faith Looks Up to Thee."

Baltimore's Transit Fare Upped 2 Cents

40-Day Strike Ends This Morning

BALTIMORE, March 8 (AP)—Joseph Allen, State emergency utility administrator, today ordered a two-cent increase in transit fares in Baltimore, making the fare 20 cents.

The hike becomes effective early tomorrow morning, ending the longest transit workers strike in the city's history in its 40th day.

Allen set the new rates after obtaining an advisory opinion, or recommendation, from the Public Service Commission which has no authority to change the rates during the period of State seizure of the utility.

The increased fares, declared today by Allen, will be in effect only for the period of State operation of the transit firm and the PSC would have to authorize continuance of the higher fares or any other change once the firm is returned to its private owners.

Allen hiked the fares on express buses to 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children, or a five-cent hike over previous rates. Children's fares on regular service remains at 10 cents.

The first bus is scheduled to roll out at 3:30 a.m. tomorrow, followed in turn by the regular early morning fleet. Normal operation throughout the system is anticipated.

Maintenance men have been working for two days to get the system back in working operation.

Negotiating teams from the transit firm and the union are scheduled to get together again next Monday in an effort to reach agreement on a new contract.

The transit service was resumed only because the state seized the system last Monday to force it back into operation. The company and its 2,000 union workers apparently are still far from reaching agreement on a new pact.

The union, represented by the Amalgamated Assn. of Electric, Street Railway and Motor Coach Employes, is asking for a 20-cent increase in a one-year contract. The top company offer has been an 18-cent hike in a three-year contract. The present hourly scale is $1.90.

Plans Complete For Penal Camp At Blackwater

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 8 (AP)—The Board of Control and Road Commission completed arrangements today to establish West Virginia's first forestry camp for young lawbreakers at Blackwater Falls State Park through rental of SRC buildings.

Board President Hames Donohoe said buildings obtained from the commission include six Quonset-type structures and two frame buildings now at a prison labor camp at Evans in Jackson County.

The buildings will be moved to Blackwater Falls under Road Commission direction beginning probably next Wednesday or Thursday, with the operation to require an estimated 15 days.

Donohoe, Board Treasurer L. Trotter, Parks Director Kermit McKeever of the Conservation Department and officials of the Blackwater Falls park will meet at the recreation area in Tucker County Monday to select a definite site for the camp.

Sent to the new facility will be youthful male lawbreakers regarded as amenable to discipline other than that provided by confinement. The initial complement is expected to number about 75.

Four of the Quonset-style buildings will be used for dormitories, and two for commissary, kitchen and dining hall purposes. The two frame buildings will serve as offices.

Burns Prove Fatal To Salisbury Child

SALISBURY, Md., March 8 (AP)—Nearly six weeks ago, 4-year-old James Overholt was playing with an electrical plug to his mother's washing machine. He stuck it into an outlet. Flames spurted out, igniting his shirt.

He died today from the third degree burns.

His mother, Mrs. Charles Overholt, is still hospitalized after some of her skin was used to graft on her young son.

Members of their church, the Good Will Baptist Church, have begun accepting donations to help defray hospital expenses. A spokesman said the father, a farmer, had lost money last year on his crops and was hard pressed financially.

They said the men were between 20 and 25 years old.

School Loan Authorization Bill Inked By Gov. M'Keldin

ANNAPOLIS, March 8 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin signed into law today a bill authorizing the use of State credit for 75 million-dollars worth of local school construction.

The bill was one of 16 penned by the governor after passage by the Legislature at its regular 1956 session ended last week.

McKeldin also signed one of a batch of bills passed a few hours earlier today at the Legislature's special session. This was a bill authorizing the State Roads Commission to enter into a trusteeship agreement with a Baltimore bank to facilitate the handling of bonds and revenues relating to the northeastern expressway.

Of the 75 million authorized in the school loan, Baltimore City received a green light to borrow 20 million, the counties 55 million. They will be able to do so with state-backing of their loans, which should make money available to them at lower interest rates.

The State pledges to redeem the bonds, if necessary, with the subdivisions' share of state-collected taxes, commonly known as Sherbow fund money because it is allotted to the subdivisions under a formula devised by a commission under former Judge Joseph Sherbow.

Another measure which became law today was one abolishing the State Employes' Salary Board and replacing it with one to be known as the State Employes Standard Salary Board, headed by the commissioner of personnel.

NEW YORK, March 8 (AP) — Cook's tours are looking for a new name for "chaperone" and are having so much trouble finding it, they've offered a $200 prize to the young person (18 to 28) who can produce the best synonym. Mother, Daughter Critically Burned In Baltimore Fire

BALTIMORE, March 8 (AP) — A mother and her small daughter were critically burned today when fire swept through a five-story row house.

A total of 13 were burned or injured, 8 of them children.

Firemen used ladders to rescue five persons from the fourth floor.

Reported in critical condition at Maryland General Hospital were Mrs. Marjorie Batton, 33, and Helen Batton, 5. The hospital said both were burned extensively.

Firemen said the fire started in a mattress in a basement apartment occupied by Mr. and Mrs. John Dryden and their four children.

The blaze shot up a rear stairway and within five minutes it reached the fifth floor of the building on Eutaw place.

Twelve families live in the building.

SKIN SPECIALIST DEMONSTRATES

How to Rinse Away Your Blackheads

By CLAIRE HOFFMAN

New York, N. Y.—A leading skin doctor today showed an audience of men, women and skin-troubled teenagers how to clean oily skin and shrink enlarged pores with a 10-minute home medical treatment he has perfected. Then he demonstrated how you may rinse away externally caused blackheads, whiteheads and dry up adolescent pimply skin eruptions.

Before our very eyes the doctor selected a 36-year-old woman with typically oily skin. This woman had blackheads around her nose, enlarged pores and whiteheads visible to the naked eye. To this woman's face the doctor applied a cream. Within moments it firmed into a plastic-like mask. Next he sprinkled her face with water, and handed her an ordinary washcloth to rinse the mask from her skin. To her utter astonishment, clinging to the washcloth were not only grimy streaks of dirt...but several blackheads which had marred her beauty for years.

As we stared at the washcloth in disbelief, the doctor's assistant turned to us and said: "You have just seen what looks like a miracle. Yet, what has just been done for this woman's skin, you can do at home just as easily. But to understand how this formula acts to help clear skin troubles you must first knock out of your head some silly notions most people have about their complexions."

The Truth About Cosmetics

Has it ever occurred to you that you lavish more care on your face than any other part of your body ...yet isn't that where you find the most pimples, blackheads, blemishes and enlarged pores? So what do you do about it?

Nine out of 10 women simply don't or won't understand that if they have oily skins, blackheads, pimples or enlarged pores, they may not only have a cosmetic problem...but a medical problem as well.

Now why is this so? Shocking as it seems, if nature gave you either a normal or oily skin, your face is always dirty! Why? Because 24 hours a day your face is always exposed to soot, smoke, factory dirt, car exhaust, coal dust, noxious fumes and other germ-laden dirt that pours into the air. It clings to the natural oils of your skin.

Your pores become choked and clogged. Your natural oils are stopped up and hardened into blackheads or pimples. They try to push out, forcing your pores to open wider and wider. Once this condition starts (especially during adolescence, when glandular disturbances make your skin extra oily) the condition usually grows worse and worse as you grow older. And when this happens...isn't it obvious that it may become impossible to correct unless you start to change your complexion care immediately?

Do This For A Cleaner Skin

If you want to rid your face of ugly blackheads, enlarged pores and externally caused skin eruptions, these are the three things you must do:

First you must soften the hardened dirt and oils that may have accumulated in your pore openings! Second, you must remove that dirt. (But don't squeeze it out. Squeezing only forces part of the dirt deeper into your skin.) And third, you must try to tighten your skin with shrinking and antiseptic agents, not only for beauty, but to guard you against reinfection! And unless you are prepared to do all three things, it's likely you will go on wasting your time and your money the rest of your life looking for "miracle cures!"

What Happens When You Apply This Doctor's 3-Way Formula

First to prepare your skin for treatment we are going to soften and loosen the buried dirt cemented into your pores. The scientific pore cleanser which is Part One of this famous skin doctor's treatment is unlike any other cleanser you have ever used in your life, regardless of how much you can afford to pay. And here is how you can prove it on your skin.

Apply the doctor's scientific pore cleanser. Tissue it off! Now look at the tissue!

When you see the gray streaks of dirt that come off—even after having creamed your face with any other cleanser—then will you begin to understand why you need a drastic change in complexion care.

(2) The second part of your doctor's treatment is a medicated masque which you apply.

Apply it to your face with your fingertips as you would any cream. A little thicker around the "danger area"...namely around the nose, lips, eyes and cheeks.

The first 3 or 4 minutes you will feel a strong stimulation. This is the massaging action of the medical ingredients going to work on your skin. Your face will feel alternately hot and cold. You will like it. Your skin will feel refreshed. It is like a massage without irritation, bringing fresh, purifying blood to your face to draw off the blemish causing wastes in your pores.

After a few minutes this hot and cold action goes away and a wonderful relaxation of all your tense, over-worked facial muscles sets in. Your pulse tends to slow down and you are so relaxed you feel a great tendency to fall asleep. In another moment you will feel your skin getting tighter and tighter. What is happening is this: A wonderful medical absorbing agent doctors call ARGILLA is drying on your skin. It is turning the cream on your face into a firm, plastic-like mask. You get a pleasant, drawing feeling, a relaxing feeling, there is a corrective action, there is an astringent action and an antiseptic action. You feel the ARGILLA drawing on the blackheads. Everything it touches perspiration, pore dirt, hardened oils even blackheads and whiteheads that have resisted removal for months.

After 10 minutes rinse the mask away. Hot or cold water makes no difference. It dissolves in a second. Your skin feels clean, refreshed, sparkling, smoother! Like velvet! But wait...you haven't finished your first treatment yet!

Now Apply Step 3 of Your Treatment...The Astringent

This is not merely a perfumed alcohol that tickles your skin for a few seconds. It's medicated. It penetrates into your pore openings. Kills bacteria lurking there. And even more important, leaves an invisible germ-destroying film on your skin that kills germs for hours.

Now Look Into Your Mirror!

Some of your blackheads should be gone with the very first treatment! Look for softened pimples and whiteheads that may break or be drawn out in your next treatment or two. Look at the corners of the nose, around your mouth, your cheekbones! See how your enlarged pores have tightened! Your skin will feel alive! And you will be amazed to see minor wrinkles softened—almost ironed out! And this fresh, buoyant, youthful effect will last for hours.

Is This For Normal Skin, Too?

Certainly. Simply because this is a doctor's formula doesn't mean that you have to have a "sick skin" to use it. You may be a woman past 30 who has never had a really serious skin problem, but who suspects that your skin is not as beautiful and freshlooking as it could be... but your cosmetic creams can't give it to you. In that case...we think you'll be thrilled by the sheer, smooth, silken beauty that one or two treatments can give you.

On the other hand...if you have an adolescent, broken-out skin; if you are a man who is troubled by blemishes or a "sandpaper skin" and you are sensible enough not to be ashamed to use a so-called "woman's treatment" in the privacy of your own home...or if you are a woman who has abused her complexion with improper and inadequate cosmetic preparations... then this is vital.

We promise you dramatic improvement with your first 15-minute home treatment. Your mirror will show it to you, and we promise you further rapid improvement for the next 14 days.

After 14 days, you will discover whether you have to keep using all or part of the treatment every day, once a week, or once a month, depending on how fast your complexion begins to clear.

Try This Skin Treatment In Your Own Home Without Risking A Penny!

The name of this 3-day doctor's formula is the Queen Helene Skin Treatment. It is named in honor of the nurse who worked at the doctor's side for 15 years while this formula was being developed. Your Queen Helene 3-way formula, enough for 33 home treatments, includes your scientific cleansing cream, your medicated mask cream and your medicated pore astringent. The cost is $3.98...less than 13 cents a treatment. Yes, less than 13 cents for a skin specialist's 3-way skin and beauty treatment.

Follow your daily progress in your mirror and after each treatment, if your Queen Helene treatment does not do for your skin everything we have led you to believe it will do. If you don't see dramatic improvement after just one 15-minute treatment, if you don't see a further improvement each day for the next 14 days, return the unused portion. We'll thank you for trying it, and refund your full purchase price.

But act today! The longer you wait the worse it is bound to get. And like any other condition, the worse it gets, the longer it takes to get well. So right now, while you're determined to help yourself, send coupon today!

Court To Hear Garrett Commissioners' Legal Arguments March 16 In Oakland

A demurrer to a petition by Irvin Roth, a member of the Garrett County Board of Commissioners against the other two board members and William W. DeWitt, county roads engineer, will be heard Friday, March 16, at 10 a. m., in Oakland.

Chief Judge George Henderson will hear the demurrer to the petition for an injunction asked by Roth in connection with the allegedly illegal contracts and procedures by the defendants.

Horace J. Whitworth Jr., attorney for Roth, filed the papers in the case on February 20 in Circuit Court at Oakland. The defendant commissioners are Harvey D. Swartzentruber, president of the board, and Aubrey C. Brenneman, vice president of the board.

The papers in the case state that Roth filed the petition as a county commissioner and taxpayer.

It was stated that Brenneman is engaged in the drilling and plumbing business in Oakland, and that Swartzentruber is a merchant operating "Hub's Harness Shop."

Roth states the county board owns a rock quarry known as "Bishop's Quarry," near Sang Run, from which stone for use on county roads is obtained. It is necessary for heavy drilling of holes to shoot the stone with explosives, Roth explained.

The papers state that without Roth's knowledge and, without official action or approval and recording in the minutes, the defendants entered into a contract with Brenneman's firm to drill the holes at $2 per foot. It is charged that DeWitt paid illegally a total of $15,197.81 to the firm in 1955.

Roth claims that several months after payment had been made to Brenneman, the vouchers were illegally approved. He said two vouchers were signed by him inadvertently, and in ignorance of the law and certain facts in the situation.

SKIN SPECIALIST DEMONSTRATES

How to Rinse Away Your Blackheads

By CLAIRE HOFFMAN

New York, N. Y.—A leading skin doctor today showed an audience of men, women and skin-troubled teenagers how to clean oily skin and shrink enlarged pores with a 10-minute home medical treatment he has perfected. Then he demonstrated how you may rinse away externally caused blackheads, whiteheads and dry up adolescent pimply skin eruptions.

Before our very eyes the doctor selected a 36-year-old woman with typically oily skin. This woman had blackheads around her nose, enlarged pores and whiteheads visible to the naked eye. To this woman's face the doctor applied a cream. Within moments it firmed into a plastic-like mask. Next he sprinkled her face with water, and handed her an ordinary washcloth to rinse the mask from her skin. To her utter astonishment, clinging to the washcloth were not only grimy streaks of dirt...but several blackheads which had marred her beauty for years.

As we stared at the washcloth in disbelief, the doctor's assistant turned to us and said: "You have just seen what looks like a miracle. Yet, what has just been done for this woman's skin, you can do at home just as easily. But to understand how this formula acts to help clear skin troubles you must first knock out of your head some silly notions most people have about their complexions."

The Truth About Cosmetics

Has it ever occurred to you that you lavish more care on your face than any other part of your body ...yet isn't that where you find the most pimples, blackheads, blemishes and enlarged pores? So what do you do about it?

Nine out of 10 women simply don't or won't understand that if they have oily skins, blackheads, pimples or enlarged pores, they may not only have a cosmetic problem...but a medical problem as well.

Now why is this so? Shocking as it seems, if nature gave you either a normal or oily skin, your face is always dirty! Why? Because 24 hours a day your face is always exposed to soot, smoke, factory dirt, car exhaust, coal dust, noxious fumes and other germ-laden dirt that pours into the air. It clings to the natural oils of your skin.

Your pores become choked and clogged. Your natural oils are stopped up and hardened into blackheads or pimples. They try to push out, forcing your pores to open wider and wider. Once this condition starts (especially during adolescence, when glandular disturbances make your skin extra oily) the condition usually grows worse and worse as you grow older. And when this happens...isn't it obvious that it may become impossible to correct unless you start to change your complexion care immediately?

Do This For A Cleaner Skin

If you want to rid your face of ugly blackheads, enlarged pores and externally caused skin eruptions, these are the three things you must do:

First you must soften the hardened dirt and oils that may have accumulated in your pore openings! Second, you must remove that dirt. (But don't squeeze it out. Squeezing only forces part of the dirt deeper into your skin.) And third, you must try to tighten your skin with shrinking and antiseptic agents, not only for beauty, but to guard you against reinfection! And unless you are prepared to do all three things, it's likely you will go on wasting your time and your money the rest of your life looking for "miracle cures!"

What Happens When You Apply This Doctor's 3-Way Formula

First to prepare your skin for treatment we are going to soften and loosen the buried dirt cemented into your pores. From Grantsville, the mobile unit will return to Allegany County and be in operation at Frostburg State Teachers College from 1 to 4 p.m. that day.

The final day of the visit of the unit will find it in operation at Frostburg State Teachers College from 9 a.m. to noon, and then at Flintstone from 2 to 3 p.m.

The tour is jointly sponsored each year by the Health Department and the Allegany-Garrett County Tuberculosis Association.

The rickshaw was invented by Jonathan Goble, an American missionary in Japan, between 1867 and 1871.

Dairy Workers' Union Joins Teamsters Local

The merger of Dairyworkers Union, Local 924, with Local 453, Teamsters and Chauffeur's Union, AFL-CIO, was announced yesterday by Charles E. Bramble, president of the Teamsters Union.

In connection with the merger of the two unions, Joseph F. Garlitz has been attached to the staff of Local 453 as a business agent and organizer, Bramble said. He will work with C. E. Stutzman, who has been business agent of Local 453 for many years.

Garlitz served as secretary-treasurer and business agent of the Dairyworkers Union on a part-time basis for the past 10 years.

The Dairyworkers Union has 140 members who are employed in eight dairies in Allegany, Somerset and Bedford counties.

The addition of the dairyworkers brings the membership of the Teamsters Local to well over 1,500, Bramble pointed out.

In addition to becoming a business agent-organizer, Garlitz has been made a member of Local 453's executive board.

Bramble said Garlitz has been assigned to work among the commissioned driver-salesmen group in Allegany, Bedford and Somerset counties.

Jury Members Will Be Sworn On Wednesday

Tracks Cleared After Slide

Traffic on the Elkins division of the Western Maryland Railway returned to normal yesterday after work train crews cleared a slide off the tracks about two miles west of Luke on the Thomas Sub-Division.

The slow movement of dirt, rocks and trees down an embankment began about 7 p. m. Wednesday and finally blocked traffic about two hours and a half later.

Officials said the dirt was loosened by the continuous rains of Tuesday night and all day yesterday.

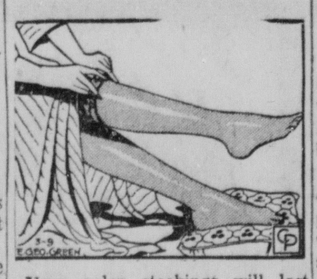
Work crews went to the scene Wednesday and removed several trees. The workers kept the tracks open until the second slide shortly after 9 o'clock.

Condemnation Case Next Week

A condemnation case which was postponed recently in Circuit Court will be heard next Thursday.

The suit was brought by the State Roads Commission against Mr. and Mrs. Frederick L. Hurt, Bedford Road. The state is seeking the right for a drainage ditch across property owned by the couple and also the right to install snow fences on their land during the winter season.

WIFE PRESERVERS



Your nylon stockings will last longer if you put them on as shown here: Roll the hose down to the toes, then unroll them up your legs, thumbs inside the stockings, fingers outside. Remove in the same way, only in reverse.

LaVale To Use Two Sirens

The LaVale Volunteer Fire Company has erected a second siren to cover the western part of LaVale, according to Cromwell C. Zembower, president.

As soon as the C&P Telephone Company completes its service expansion program in LaVale, a wire will be leased that will enable the siren to be coordinated with the one on top of the fire hall.

Members of the fire company erected the siren on poles purchased from the Potomac Edison Company.

The siren, in addition to sounding the alarm to members living in the Allegany Grove section, in the event of a fire, will be used for Civil Defense signals.

The company is completing work on a truck that will be used to haul coats, boots, hats and other firefighting equipment.

This will accompany the fire trucks and will eliminate the necessity of firemen having to stop at the fire hall to get their raincoats and equipment.

Both the flippers of whales and the wings of bats have internal structures, indicating that they once had the five-digit form found in many mammals.

Rail express service in the United States began on March 4, 1839.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, March 8 (INS)—"The Last Hurrah," Edward O'Connor's book reported to be the life story of the controversial Mayor Curly of Boston, has gone from 16th place to No. 2 in some of the book polls.

At Columbia they are trying to persuade Academy nominee James Cagney to play the lead and he's very intrigued with the idea. Curley said when asked to review the book for one of the magazines, "No, I won't review it. If there's anything I think isn't true they may have a lawsuit."

Those who have heard Curley speak say he one's of the greatest natural orators in the country today.

Pretty little Eurasian Actress Anna Kashfi moves to Universal-International to play a Korean welfare worker with Rock Hudson and Martha Hyer in "Battle Hymn."

Anna, whose first picture was "The Mountain" with Spencer Tracy, was lunching in the Paramount commissary when Marlon Brando saw her and at once asked to be introduced. They had several dates.

But it isn't Brando who has the little East Indian-born actress' heart. Her love is really a jet pilot in Italy, but she isn't telling his name.

She is under contract to MGM and was borrowed for her role with Rock and Martha.

Feeling in great spirits, Doris Day says that she goes to Carmel a week from Saturday for her independent picture, "Julie."

"All of our scenes will be shot outdoors," she said, "so Marty and I take off for the beautiful country around Carmel for the first scenes."

I asked Doris if there is anything about her appearing in "Pajama Game" at Warners, which has been rumored as being tied up with her name on it. She said she hadn't heard a thing but added, "I'd like to go back to Warners for a picture."

She said, "Alfred Hitchcock, who directed me in 'The Man Who Knew Too Much,' called Marty and me from New York to tell us how well the picture went over at the sneak preview at the 72nd Street Theatre."

As I understand it, it will not be necessary for Warners to cancel their contract with starlet Rena Clark, the unfortunate girl taken into custody last week in connection with her musician husband's arrest on alleged possession of narcotics.

At the time she signed the contract, the girl did not reveal to Warners that she is only 16 years old and therefore not legally of age to sign a binding deal.

Another thing the studio did not know of is that Rena is an expectant mother and the baby is due in May.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Hope I can be at the installation services of John Wayne when he goes into office of honorary mayor of Encino for 1956.

The brother of the Earl of Warwick, the Honorable Richard Greville, is the house guest of the Robert Douglases. He's Mrs. Douglas' brother.

Tomorrow Janet Leigh and Tony Curtis move into the first home they have ever owned. Tony is doing all the chores and not letting Janet lift a finger.

Joan Collins' sister Jackie and Paul Newman, who is starring in "Somebody Up There Likes Me," were an Encore twosome.

And so were Nancy Valentine and William Holmes, Fleishman heir. Incidentally, Holmes is now working in the Ross-Gardiner publicity office.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, March 8 (INS)—"The Last Hurrah," Edward O'Connor's book reported to be the life story of the controversial Mayor Curly of Boston, has gone from 16th place to No. 2 in some of the book polls.

At Columbia they are trying to persuade Academy nominee James Cagney to play the lead and he's very intrigued with the idea. Curley said when asked to review the book for one of the magazines, "No, I won't review it. If there's anything I think isn't true they may have a lawsuit."

Those who have heard Curley speak say he one's of the greatest natural orators in the country today.

Pretty little Eurasian Actress Anna Kashfi moves to Universal-International to play a Korean welfare worker with Rock Hudson and Martha Hyer in "Battle Hymn."

Anna, whose first picture was "The Mountain" with Spencer Tracy, was lunching in the Paramount commissary when Marlon Brando saw her and at once asked to be introduced. They had several dates.

But it isn't Brando who has the little East Indian-born actress' heart. Her love is really a jet pilot in Italy, but she isn't telling his name.

She is under contract to MGM and was borrowed for her role with Rock and Martha.

Feeling in great spirits, Doris Day says that she goes to Carmel a week from Saturday for her independent picture, "Julie."

"All of our scenes will be shot outdoors," she said, "so Marty and I take off for the beautiful country around Carmel for the first scenes."

I asked Doris if there is anything about her appearing in "Pajama Game" at Warners, which has been rumored as being tied up with her name on it. She said she hadn't heard a thing but added, "I'd like to go back to Warners for a picture."

She said, "Alfred Hitchcock, who directed me in 'The Man Who Knew Too Much,' called Marty and me from New York to tell us how well the picture went over at the sneak preview at the 72nd Street Theatre."

As I understand it, it will not be necessary for Warners to cancel their contract with starlet Rena Clark, the unfortunate girl taken into custody last week in connection with her musician husband's arrest on alleged possession of narcotics.

At the time she signed the contract, the girl did not reveal to Warners that she is only 16 years old and therefore not legally of age to sign a binding deal.

Another thing the studio did not know of is that Rena is an expectant mother and the baby is due in May.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Clarence E. Llewellyn, 819 Memorial Avenue, was presented a gold wrist watch this week on his 25th employment anniversary by R. Finley Thompson, Amcelle plant manager.

Llewellyn is a supervisor in the warp winding department of textile production. He has been in different supervisory positions in most of the different departments of textile.

He is married and has two boys. Hunting and fishing are his favorite sports. Llewellyn is a member of Lodge 271, Loyal Order of Moose.

Harry A. Smith, assistant superintendent of Textile Manufacturing, joined in honoring Llewellyn by awarding him the five-star gold Celanese emblem and certificate of service.

The Israelites are believed to have first entered the land of Canaan, now Israel, about 1400 B. C.

Logger Reported 'Good'

Attaches at Memorial Hospital last night reported Samuel Shaffer, 50, of RD 1, Ridgeley, in "good" condition. He was admitted Wednesday for X-rays and observation after he was pinned beneath a tractor while logging off of West Virginia Route 28 near Ridgeley.

Labor Temple Theft Probed

City Police are continuing an investigation into the breaking and entering of the Labor Temple, South Liberty Street, some time Wednesday night or early yesterday.

The intruder got away with $75 to $100 and left the various offices strewn with records. Local police were notified at 8 a. m. yesterday when an employe reported for work at the temple.

Officials of Local 453, Teamsters Union of America reported approximately $25 in half dollars was taken from a box owned by Charles E. Bramble, president.

Most of the money was stolen from piggy banks kept by various secretaries employed in the building. Union officials said cancelled checks and records were strewn in the offices.

The intruder gained entrance to the Teamsters quarters by climbing through a small transom in a door, and then entered the inner office by removing a window. Sgt. James Brown answered the first call at 8 a. m. and yesterday afternoon Detective Lt. James E. Van and Detective Thomas See continued the probe.

See Thanks McKay For Parkway Decision

State Senator Charles M. See has sent a letter of thanks to Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay for the approval of the plan for the C&O Canal Parkway.

He said he was pleased to learn that the Department of the Interior had given approval of the building of the parkway between North Branch and Hancock.

"I am sure," Senator See said, "that . . . this road will mean much to this section of the state."

Voting Machine To Be Explained

A full-time demonstrator will be on duty each day next week in the main lobby of the Court House to explain the operation of the new voting machines which will be used on a county-wide basis for the first time in the May 7 primary election.

William A. Wilson, chairman of the County Board of Election Supervisors, announced the following schedule for the demonstrators:

Monday, John R. Kelly, Democrat custodian; Tuesday, Reatus L. Spiker, Republican custodian; Wednesday, Irvin J. Neat, Republican registrar; Thursday, Mrs. Jennie C. Lancaster, office clerk; Friday, Edward P. Kaylor, clerk to the board; Saturday, Alvin Gentry board messenger.

This was decided yesterday after it became apparent that during the sale of auto license tags hundreds of persons would be passing through the lobby who could be given a demonstration on using the voting device. Yesterday 329 sets of tags were sold.

Assembly Enacts

permit carnivals and games of chance to raise money for volunteer firemen in Wicomico County and one which would authorize Prince Georges County Commissioners to levy a fire tax in the 2nd Precinct of the 14th Election District.

Its own bills which were killed would have provided an emergency appropriation of $16,000 to give University of Maryland employes retroactive social security coverage and authorized the Baltimore police and fire departments to set up a pension and retirement system.

Other Action Taken

In addition to the port authority bill and that dealing with arbitration of a utility dispute, the bills enacted today provide for the following:

Bond issues of 15 million dollars for schools, 6 million for a civic center and 3½ million for libraries in Baltimore; 1½ million for schools in Harford County and 1 million for those in Dorchester; 2½ millions for a hospital addition in Prince Georges; $550,000 for schools in Garrett County.

Authorization for the military department to acquire land adjacent to the Glenn L. Martin Airport for the Air National Guard.

An appropriation of up to $25,000 to pay the cost of today's special session of the Legislature.

Authorization for the State Roads Commission to enter an agreement with the Fidelity National Bank and Trust Co. of Baltimore regarding bonds and revenues from the northeastern toll expressway.

Authorization for Baltimore County to raise its debt limit from 8 per cent to 10 per cent of the assessed basis of its property.

Clarification of a 1955 law regarding establishment of Peoples Courts in Montgomery County which threw into question powers of justices of the peace.

Gov. McKeldin sent legislators a message just before adjournment commending their passage of the port and other bills and "the orderly manner in which today's session was handled."

"Seldom has a Legislature accomplished more," he said of today's work and that of the recent 30-day session.

County Caves Could Offer Emergency Water Supply

Should an atomic attack ever put Cumberland's water supply out of commission by making it radioactive, underground water in Allegany County caves could provide an emergency source of supply.

That view was offered by Brother Nicholas, science teacher at LaSalle High School, as the principal speaker at the "Ladies Night" dinner of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce Wednesday night at the Cumberland Country Club. Brother Nicholas is vice president of the National Speleological Society and is considered a leading authority on American caves.

The cave explorer said at least three caves in this county could supply more than one million gallons of water each in an emergency.

Speleologists have reported to the federal government more than 100 caves from New York to Maryland which could serve as emergency sources of water supply in case of enemy attack.

Brother Nicholas said several caves in Allegany County have sizeable supplies of iron ore and limestone which might be developed industrially. Several caves discovered not long ago on farms along Christie Road also might be connected and could conceivably be developed commercially as tourist attractions. One of them is on Ted Stegmaier's farm.

Of some 50,000 caves in the United States only about 5,000 have been explored. They have provided much information about life that existed millions of years ago. For instance, fossils found in the Cumberland Bone Cave along the Western Maryland Railway right-of-way near Corriganville show that at one time animals now associated with Northern Canada lived in this area. At another period tropical life was abundant here.

After the feature talk, a film entitled "The Jaycee Story," was shown. It traced the activities of a typical Jaycee from his early days in the Junior Chamber of Commerce to the time when he passes his 35th birthday and no longer is eligible for membership.

Local interest was discovered in a scene taken at Williamsburg, Va. Among the high school boys and girls pictured in that scene was George Eskin, son of Dr. and Mrs. Albert C. Eskin, who was the Maryland winner in the 1954 "Voice of Democracy" contest while a senior at Fort Hill High School.

War Again Threatens Land Built On Ruins

It is too much, probably, to ask the peoples now poised on the brink of war in Palestine to take a look at their grievances through the long perspective of history. But it might well sober them if they could be persuaded to review their past as they make up their minds on how to deal with their grievances today.

This ancient land has been the scene of warfare since well past the dawn of recorded history and it has suffered more from armies bent on destruction than any other spot of similar size on the face of the globe.

Long before the birth of Christ this land had been ravaged and its cities leveled in ruins by the armies of the Assyrians, the Hittites, the Egyptians, the Persians, the Chaldeans, the Philistines, and others whose names have been lost in the abyss of time. The Hebrews themselves were warlike invaders early in their history.

At the great mound of Megiddo, where no one has lived for 2,000 years, archaeologists have found the remains of 18 different cultures or cities piled on top of the other as fortress towns were successively razed and rebuilt until the site was finally abandoned to the desert sands and winds. The nuclear weapons of the 20th Century may kill more swiftly, more effectively, and over a wider area, but in Palestine, the work of destruction was done so effectively that city sites laid waste were abandoned for hundreds of years at a time.

One might say that this proves the ability of the human race to survive despite its proclivity for war. But the nations of Palestine had better not count on this. Egypt, Israel, Syria, and Jordan may each find everything that they have newly won and freshly built ravaged once again like the cities of their ancestors unless they accept the lesson of history that those who live by the sword eventually perish by it.

These Days

Exit A Deity

Death came to Stalin, as to all men, and the least he deserves of a country which he ruled so mightily is that the anniversary of his death should be observed, either as a celebration or as a day of memory. But of this, he has now been deprived and in such organs of slanted opinion as Pravda in Moscow or the Daily Worker in New York, he received no special mention. They can take his demise or leave it. Also they are removing his pictures from the walls, lest children grow up wondering who he is.

Thus, one who made himself into a deity, whose ikons were carried in huge processions, having passed out of this world, is now declared by Herr Ulbricht of East Germany as not a Marxist classic, this same Ulbricht who used to extol Stalin as a Slavic Wotan and in whose interest he betrayed his national and racial traditions.

Perhaps it is all for the best. We, in this country, who do not take our great men too seriously, celebrate the birth of only one universally; that is George Washington's birthday. Many states also celebrate the birthday of Abraham Lincoln. Franklin D. Roosevelt's natal day is celebrated in Kentucky and the Virgin Islands, which is not as well as Robert E. Lee has done, for eight states remember him and three others have him as an optional holiday, making a total of 11.

Considering all the great men we have had in this area since Columbus discovered it and Dwight D. Eisenhower presides over it, more or less, few have established themselves as worthy of annual commemoration either to mark a birth or a death. And none among us has ever achieved the role of a deity such as befell Stalin who was adulated until it must have turned his stomach. Among the chief adulators are those who now declare him to have been nothing, just a guy who imitated Ivan the Terrible and fooled Roosevelt and Churchill at Teheran and Yalta. For that should he get a golden statue? That was to be on top of the tallest building in the world but now they have cancelled it out. Competitive co-existence does not require such a tall building.

But out of the repudiation of Stalin's memory has come an idea which seems new to those who are not students of the situation. It is that to achieve socialism, it is not necessary to overthrow a government by force and violence. This is Khrushchev's great contribution to Marxian dialectics, although Marx himself in the "Communist Manifesto" tells of 10 ways to overthrow a capitalist government and force and violence are not the most revolutionary. In fact, the most revolutionary, the most destructive is the graduated income tax and all that Khrushchev needs to do, to see how correct Karl Marx was, is to have a good look at the United States and Great Britain to learn how much damage the graduated income tax can do to solid countries and how speedily it brings on socialism without overthrowing the government by force and violence.

In the first place, this income tax destroys the middle class, the bourgeoisie, which in every civilization is the core of the nation, the strong, hard-thinking, initiating, creative element that is essential to the continuance of a civilization. In fact, in Soviet Russia, one of the first acts of Bolshevism was the development of such a middle class, consisting principally of party members and those who possessed technical and artistic skills, all of whom gained special privileges. And while this was being accomplished in Soviet Russia under Stalin, this creative class is being wiped out in the Western world by the graduated income tax which, punitively collected by a host of underpaid bureaucrats, leaves men without the incentive to accomplish more than they must to get by. It also has the effect of stimulating lawlessness, for the really able find ways of evading the tax or of making for themselves special privileges which bring to them benefits which other citizens cannot have under the law.

So Mr. Khrushchev need not look too far to discover how to accomplish socialism without force and violence. It can be done by taxation and has been so done in the United States and Great Britain — to mention only two countries.

"This'll Make The British Mad"

U. S. Intelligence Reports Indicate War Feared In Near East In April

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — U.S. officials aren't advertising it, but orders have been given to two cruisers and six destroyers of the U.S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean to join the British Mediterranean Fleet in standing off Israeli-Arab ports during the next few weeks.

This coincides with U.S. intelligence reports that war may break out in the Near East in April.

These reports are based not only upon growing Arab fanasicism, but on the fact that the Arab nations now have the small state of Israel in a bind where, in case of war, Israel could probably be wiped out. The Arabs also have the United States in a bind from which it will be extremely difficult if not impossible for us to get out.

Delay, procrastination, general bungling have put us in a cross-saw by which we jeopardize one or the other of the following objectives in the Near East:

1. The future of the tiny state of Israel which we have long championed as a national policy.

2. The tremendous oil reserves of Saudi Arabia, considered the greatest in the world.

3. Air bases in Saudi Arabia, which are within striking distance of Moscow.

4. Air bases in North Africa, located among other Arab peoples, all seething with hatred of Israel and resentment against the West.

In case of war or even the use of U. S. troops around Israel to prevent war, the lives of American women and children at these far-flung North African bases would be in jeopardy.

What's happened to change the balance in the Near East are two things:

A. The exit of British Gen. John Glubb from Jordan, thereby making it possible for the Arabs to invade Israeli almost from inside Israel. Jordan police are right inside the old City of Jerusalem, are entrusted with its protection. As long as they were under British control they were a stabilizing influence. Now they are not.

B. The arrival of Russian-Czech tanks and jet planes in Egypt. These now make it possible for Egypt to do to Israeli what Hitler did to Czechoslovakia, Holland, Belgium, France. Israeli airfields can be wiped out in a few minutes. Self-propelled Russian tanks, in the hands of Egyptians, can make mince-meat of Israeli defenses.

Israel is so minute that, faced with this kind of strength, it probably could be wiped out before American-British troops could intervene.

There was a time, last summer, before the arrival of Red arms, when the opposite was true. The Israeli army, well-trained and determined, could probably have captured Cairo. Its troops are far superior to the Egyptian in old-fashioned warfare, but now far behind in the new Hitler blitzwrieg techniques—thanks to Soviet tanks and planes.

Chief cause of the present dynamite-laden crisis is a split personality inside the State Department; also to some extent inside the British Foreign Office.

The State Department has been torn between Arabian oil and Jewish Israel. Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr., a power in Union Oil of California and the man who handled the Iranian oil dispute, has sided with the Arabs. Some other State Department officials have sided with the Jews. Secretary Dulles has teetered in between. This split personality has caused fumbling and delay.

Senate Sidelights

New Jersey's conscientious Sen. Clifford Case, a possible substitute for Vice President Nixon on the GOP ticket, has been dubbed "the Adlai Stevenson of the Republican party.". . . . Ohio's jolly Sen. George Bender seldom loses his temper, but he blew off steam the other day at his assistant, Mrs. C. D. Terry. The verbal explosion echoed through the Senate corridors. After taking a dose of hot words, Mrs. Terry spat back: "Don't speak to me like that, little man!". . . . Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson's friends are excusing his stand on the natural gas bill because he's a Texan. His opponents argue, however, that he should give up the Senate leadership if he must put running both house of Congress to suit the Texas oil-gas crowd. . . . Maryland's Sen. John Marshall Butler, who looks like a startled robin, was gleeful over the news that Ike would run again. Butler's GOP seat is at stake. In the past, Butler has been more loyal to Senator McCarthy than President Eienhower, but has now discovered, belatedly, that Ike's political pulling power is greater than McCarthy's.

Capital Comments

Sen. Joe McCarthy, who has been cooking with gas lately, seems to have cooked his own goose. The Wisconsin whiz kid voted for his Texas millionaire friends instead of the folks back home on the natural gas bill. Reports from Wisconsin indicate this was the last straw; his constituents have had enough. Citizens who wouldn't speak against him two years ago are now openly suggesting that he move to Texas. He is representing the Texas oil billionaires, they say, so he may as well live there. . . . Example of how Wisconsin opinion has turned against McCarthy: "Time and the public's good sense have taken care of McCarthy," said Editor Roy Matson of the Madison State Journal, onetime McCarthy supporter. "He's a dead pidgeon."

Eisenhower Subtly 'Dumps' Nixon From Ticket

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower seems to have "dumped" Vice President Nixon off the Republican ticket for 1956.

There are denials galore purporting to contradict this, and there are wishful-thinking comments to the effect that Mr. Eisenhower is merely waiting for the Vice President to make up his mind whether or not he wants the nomination. But anybody who has had the most meagre experience in politics can recognize the kiss of death when it is revealed to the naked eye.

For, as now disclosed, Mr. Eisenhower told Mr. Nixon on Tuesday, Feb. 28, that he should "chart out his own course." In the next few days news dispatches began to quote "informed sources" as saying that the Vice President could have the renomination if he wants it. But the fact of the matter is that the President deliberately sidestepped at his press conference this week a reporter's question which asked whether, if Mr. Nixon decided that he wanted the nomination, the President would support him for it.

It's customary and traditional for a Presidential candidate not to try to announce his running mate in advance of a national convention. This is sound practice. But this week Mr. Eisenhower decided to discuss the Vice Presidency with the press. He revealed that he actually had put it up to Mr. Nixon last week to say whether he wants to be renominated.

What a strange position in which to put Mr. Nixon! Certainly Mr. Nixon has wanted to run. The mere fact that Mr. Eisenhower opened the question wide by expressing to the Vice President a doubt as to whether Mr. Nixon wanted to run and telling the entire press about it will be construed by politicians everywhere as a subtle way of saying that the President hopes Mr. Nixon will decide that he doesn't wish to run.

As for the hints that the President feels Mr. Nixon is a "comer" and hence would do well later on, perhaps in 1960, this is political bunkum of the soft-soap variety. If Mr. Nixon is dropped by Mr. Eisenhower now, it is a mark of disapproval and a stigma of political defectiveness which Mr. Nixon will never be able to overcome. It means the end of any Presidential ambitions for him if Mr. Eisenhower sticks to his present course.

The all-important question and answer at Wednesday's press conference, as made public in the stenographic transcript, reads as follows:

"Mr. President, when you say, sir, you have suggested to Mr. Nixon that he chart out his course, is the implication of that that if he elects to remain on the ticket you are content to have him as your running mate?

"The President: Well, I am not going to be pushed into corners here and say — and right now, at this moment — say what I would do in a hypothetical question involving about five if's. And I don't think you should expect me to.

"I do say this: I have no criticism of Vice President Nixon to make, either as a man, an associate or as my running mate on the ticket."

The President's answer shows embarrassment. He could easily have refused to discuss the subject any further. He could have stood on his statement in last week's press conference that he wouldn't discuss the Vice Presidential nomination till his own renomination had occurred. But instead Mr. Eisenhower chose to reveal some new facts to the reporters and thus opened up the entire subject, now, whether he likes it or not, He has placed himself in the position of having refused to endorse Mr. Nixon as his running mate.

Some comfort was taken by the friends of Mr. Nixon from the fact that the President said he had no criticism to make of Nixon "as a man, an associate or as my running mate on the ticket." This could mean "running mate" in the past — in 1952. Also there's a vast difference between heaping praise and recognizing what the President's advisers have tried to put over on him — namely, that Nixon is an alleged liability on the ticket. In other words, the President likes Mr. Nixon but, if the Vice President has to be sacrificed on the altar of expediency, Mr. Eisenhower is evidently willing to cut loose from Mr. Nixon in order to make sure of winning an election.

Those advisers who have sold this line to Mr. Eisenhower do not know what a Pandora's Box they are opening and what troubles lie ahead when Republicans start fighting Republicans over the Vice Presidential nomination. There are many Republicans who feel that Mr. Eisenhower ran out on the one man who made a spectacular fight against Communists in government and who now will feel that Mr. Eisenhower is running out on the man who exposed Alger Hiss.

For Mr. Nixon's main "crime" is that he offended Democrats on the Communist issue. There are weak-kneed Republicans who have been duped by the argument that it is necessary to get Democrats who were sore at Nixon to come over to the party. The fact is the Democrats who deserted their party on the anti-Communist issue in 1952 are disturbed today about the Eisenhower Administration's position on certain phases of this controversy. They now will be even more disturbed when Mr. Nixon, who symbolizes the anti-Communist fight and made a valiant campaign in 1954 in 11 Western states, is punished for his outspoken comments in that campaign.

But in politics sincerity and loyalty are to be found usually among the regular organization men—the amateurs are the ones who believe that organization workers can be enthused by letting them down.

How It Happened

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Arthur "Bugs" Baer is the originator of some of America's most-often-repeated sayings. In the absence of his regular column—"Baering Down On the News"—because of his illness, The Cumberland News is presenting Baer's own explanations of how he came to coin some of the more famous of his sayings.

"America never lost a war—or won a peace conference."

I had written this line after realizing that Europe had given Woodrow Wilson the business at Versailles. It was not an especially-pondered statement but it did contain some logic.

It was made famous by Will Rogers, the philosopher-cowboy, when he was on stage with the Ziegfeld Follies. Talented Rogers and myself were life-long friends.

When he asked me if he could use the line, I naturally said certainly. I knew if it were just written and lie there it would die the death of a sawdust doll in a knife fight.

Will used it and always gave me credit. "As Bugs Baer said" he would begin. He was very willing to pay for it but I wouldn't accept any money from Will Rogers, whom I admired very much. I'm proud to say the admiration was mutual. He was one of the greatest personalities of any monologuist on the stage.

I should know because even before I had written for Nat Wills, Raymond Hitchcock and Lew Dockstader (fellow who discovered Al Jolson).

I never got excited over my lines going astray because I had the conceit of confidence. I knew I'd write many more and so far I've been fortunate enough to do so.

Many of my lines have been credited to other people but you learn to live with things like that. One day I'll call the cows home and we'll have cream for supper.

The B-52 Problem

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

Both the magnitude and the urgency of the American defense problem are pretty well summed up in what may be called the B-52 problem, which is due to cause widespread and embittered public debate in the months immediately ahead.

Secretary of the Air Force Donald Quarles has now told both the Senate and House Armed Services Committees that he is perfectly satisfied with the existing B-52 program. This means that Secretary Quarles is satisfied with a current monthly output of only four of these long range jet bombers which have become the essential instruments of strategic airpower, although the Soviet output of their comparable "Bison" bombers is already three times higher than American B-52 output.

One man who is conspicuously dissatisfied, however, is the brilliant commander of the U. S. Strategic Air Command, Gen. Curtis LeMay. It must have taken some courage for Gen. LeMay to tackle the B-52 problem again this year. In 1952, he was tentatively slated to become Chief of Air Staff. He was actually brought into the Pentagon on a sort of trial basis. But his insistent demand for an expanded B-52 program got him into a hot row with the then-Secretaries of Defense and the Air Force, Robert A. Lovett and Thomas Finletter. So LeMay missed the top job in 1952, and was returned to SAC command.

Yet courage is one quality that Gen. LeMay has never lacked. In the budget-making period this year, he rather stormily demanded an emergency effort to step up B-52 output to the level of 40 to 50 planes a month, and to raise the production goal far enough to provide SAC with no less than 1,900 B-52s.

LeMay was turned down flat by the balance-the budget-firsters, but at present the Air Staff is all but unanimous that he ought not to have been turned down. And the wise and moderate chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, Richard Russell of Georgia, is now demanding an increase of one and one half billion dollars in this year's Air Force appropriations, mainly to provide LeMay with more B-52s.

The B-52 program LeMay wants will cost a pretty penny.

The bill for each of these great planes is eight million dollars; and the kind of increase in B-52 strength that LeMay wants would require tremendous concurrent increases in SAC's tanker fleet and airbase system on this continent. But if you are a survival-firster instead of a balance-the-budget-firster, Gen. LeMay's arguments appear to be absolutely unanswerable.

In brief, LeMay's Strategic Air Command now comprises 11 truly long range groups, whose obsolete B-36s are now being gradually replaced with B-52s, plus 28 medium range groups equipped with B-47s. Numerically, the present ratio is 330 inter-continental bombers to 1,420 medium range bombers, for there are more planes in the B-47 groups than in the long range groups.

The B-47 groups are planned to operate from overseas airbases, while the long range bombers are planned to operate from this hemisphere. All are to participate in the first strike, and Gen. LeMay insists that SAC cannot do its assigned job with a total striking power of less than 1,850 bombers.

But most of Gen. LeMay's force, being medium range, is hopelessly dependent on the overseas bases. Loss of those bases would cut his B-47 striking power almost exactly as much as the destruction of four-fifths of his B-47s on the ground before the war even started. Without the overseas bases, therefore, SAC could not possibly do its assigned job. Gen. LeMay might wound, but he could not kill the enemy.

This dependence of SAC on overseas bases is now being rendered acutely perilous in two different ways. Politically the bases are becoming less and less reliable, because of the general weakening of the Western Alliance. Strategically, the bases are becoming more and more vulnerable. The prime purposes of the Soviets' new ballistic missile of 1,500 miles range are to intimidate the American Allies who control LeMay's overseas bases; or if need be, to destroy those bases in one vast, widespread, simultaneous missile strike.

In two years time or a little more, therefore, these already doubtful foreign bases, on which SAC is so dependent, will quite certainly become utterly undependable. At that time, Gen. LeMay's power to kill may be lost any morning. He may be left, any morning, with only enough power to wound. By that time the Soviets will also have a large, wholly self-contained force of longe range jet bombers, with no crippling dependencies of any kind, and plenty of power to destroy this country.

What lies ahead, in sum, is a period when Gen LeMay can only be sure of wounding the enemy, while his Soviet opposite number can be sure of destroying the United States. Gen LeMay wants to replace his medium range B-47s with long range B-52s in order to maintain his power to kill during this interim period before the intercontinental ballistic missile will again change the power balance. In these circumstances the sublime satisfaction of Secretary Quarles is a trifle hard to comprehend.

New Evidence Found On Cause Of Athlete's Foot

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Deilen

Additional evidence is accumulating to show that ringworm of the feet is not acquired from shower or locker room floors or around swimming pools. If this is true we can throw away our bath slippers, shower clogs, and disinfectant foot baths.

The fungi causing athlete's foot are widely scattered in numerous environments. They live peaceably on the skin of many healthy persons and do not invade the tissues unless skin resistance is lowered. Our new ideas on transmission of the organisms stem from deliberate attempts to induce the infection.

This can be done, but is so difficult most authorities are convinced that it needs more than mere exposure, such as occurs in showers. When a mass of ringworm organisms is placed between the toes, for example, nothing happens. But ringworm develops if the skin between the digits is macerated before the material is smeared on and the area is taped with adhesive thereafter.

Additional studies from the New York University postgraduate medical school demonstrate how spread of ringworm is resisted. These scientists had 68 uninfected volunteers soak one foot for 30 minutes in a tub containing living fungi. None acquired an active form of the disease.

Fungi remained on the foot in many others without causing trouble. In several, the organisms were found on the unexposed, or control, foot. In the second experiment, 20 men and women with another type of fungal infection were exposed to a similar water bath containing a species of fungus other than that causing their own disease.

Four acquired the second infection. The New York dermatologists reasoned that these 20 volunteers were susceptible to ringworm because they already had one form of the disease. The four who acquired the new infection did so because their tissues had lost resistance to ringworm in contrast to the 68 uninfected subjects in the first experiment, none of whom became infected.

These experiments demonstrate that contact plays a minor role in spreading fungal lesions. The main cause is lowering of skin resistance. Those who wish to avoid the eruption should practice good foot hygiene. The skin must be kept dry by changing the socks frequently and using a mildly fungicidal drying powder in the shoes.

Perforated shoes will help keep the feet aerated in hot weather. The highly susceptible should wash the feet in a non-alkaline detergent and wear socks made of absorbent fabrics such as cotton, wool, or a thick broad mesh nylon rather than rayon or spun nylon.

TOMORROW: Proper shaving

BABY'S BLOOD

O. H. N. writes: Does the fetus get its blood from the father or mother?

REPLY

From the mother, through the umbilical cord. I assume you are referring to blood in its literal sense.

ORANGE SKIN

Mrs. D. writes: Is it harmful for a boy of 11 to eat oranges, skin and all?

REPLY

No, but he should eject the seeds. Orange skin is not popular because not many people like its taste except as marmalade.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellan will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

War Again Threatens Land Built On Ruins

It is too much, probably, to ask the peoples now poised on the brink of war in Palestine to take a look at their grievances through the long perspective of history. But it might well sober them if they could be persuaded to review their past as they make up their minds on how to deal with their grievances today.

This ancient land has been the scene of warfare since well past the dawn of recorded history and it has suffered more from armies bent on destruction than any other spot of similar size on the face of the globe.

Long before the birth of Christ this land had been ravaged and its cities leveled in ruins by the armies of the Assyrians, the Hittites, the Egyptians, the Persians, the Chaldeans, the Philistines, and others whose names have been lost in the abyss of time. The Hebrews themselves were warlike invaders early in their history.

At the great mound of Megiddo, where no one has lived for 2,000 years, archaeologists have found the remains of 18 different cultures or cities piled on top of the other as fortress towns were successively razed and rebuilt until the site was finally abandoned to the desert sands and winds. The nuclear weapons of the 20th Century may kill more swiftly, more effectively, and over a wider area, but in Palestine, the work of destruction was done so effectively that city sites laid waste were abandoned for hundreds of years at a time.

One might say that this proves the ability of the human race to survive despite its proclivity for war. But the nations of Palestine had better not count on this. Egypt, Israel, Syria, and Jordan may each find everything that they have newly won and freshly built ravaged once again like the cities of their ancestors unless they accept the lesson of history that those who live by the sword eventually perish by it.

Perhaps it is all for the best. We, in this country, who do not take our great men too seriously, celebrate the birth of only one universally; that is George Washington's birthday. Many states also celebrate the birthday of Abraham Lincoln. Franklin D. Roosevelt's natal day is celebrated in Kentucky and the Virgin Islands, which is not as well as Robert E. Considering all the great men we have had in this area since Columbus discovered it and Dwight D. Eisenhower presides over it, more or less, few have established themselves as worthy of annual commemoration either to mark a birth or a death. And none among us has ever achieved the role of a deity such as befell Stalin who was adulated until it must have turned his stomach. But out of the repudiation of Stalin's memory has come an idea which seems new to those who are not students of the situation. It is that to achieve socialism, it is not necessary to overthrow a government by force and violence. This is Khrushchev's great contribution to Marxian dialectics, although Marx himself in the "Communist Manifesto" tells of 10 ways to overthrow a capitalist government and force and violence are not the most revolutionary. In the first place, this income tax destroys the middle class, the bourgeoisie, which in every civilization is the core of the nation, the strong, hard-thinking, initiating, creative element that is essential to the continuance of a civilization. In fact, in Soviet Russia, one of the first acts of Bolshevism was the development of such a middle class, consisting principally of party members and those who possessed technical and artistic skills, all of whom gained special privileges. And while this was being accomplished in Soviet Russia under Stalin, this creative class is being wiped out in the Western world by the graduated income tax which, punitively collected by a host of underpaid bureaucrats, leaves men without the incentive to accomplish more than they must to get by. It also has the effect of stimulating lawlessness, for the really able find ways of evading the tax or of making for themselves special privileges which bring to them benefits which other citizens cannot have under the law.

So Mr. Khrushchev need not look too far to discover how to accomplish socialism without force and violence. It can be done by taxation and has been so done in the United States and Great Britain — to mention only two countries.

"This'll Make The British Mad"

U. S. Intelligence Reports Indicate War Feared In Near East In April

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — U.S. officials aren't advertising it, but orders have been given to two cruisers and six destroyers of the U.S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean to join the British Mediterranean Fleet in standing off Israeli-Arab ports during the next few weeks.

This coincides with U.S. intelligence reports that war may break out in the Near East in April.

These reports are based not only upon growing Arab fanasicism, but on the fact that the Arab nations now have the small state of Israel in a bind where, in case of war, Israel could probably be wiped out. The Arabs also have the United States in a bind from which it will be extremely difficult if not impossible for us to get out.

1. The future of the tiny state of Israel which we have long championed as a national policy.

2. The tremendous oil reserves of Saudi Arabia, considered the greatest in the world.

3. Air bases in Saudi Arabia, which are within striking distance of Moscow.

4. Air bases in North Africa, located among other Arab peoples, all seething with hatred of Israel and resentment against the West.

In case of war or even the use of U. S. troops around Israel to prevent war, the lives of American women and children at these far-flung North African bases would be in jeopardy.

What's happened to change the balance in the Near East are two things:

A. The exit of British Gen. John Glubb from Jordan, thereby making it possible for the Arabs to invade Israeli almost from inside Israel. Jordan police are right inside the old City of Jerusalem, are entrusted with its protection. As long as they were under British control they were a stabilizing influence. Now they are not.

B. The arrival of Russian-Czech tanks and jet planes in Egypt. These now make it possible for Egypt to do to Israeli what Hitler did to Czechoslovakia, Holland, Belgium, France. Israeli airfields can be wiped out in a few minutes. Self-propelled Russian tanks, in the hands of Egyptians, can make mince-meat of Israeli defenses.

Israel is so minute that, faced with this kind of strength, it probably could be wiped out before American-British troops could intervene.

There was a time, last summer, before the arrival of Red arms, when the opposite was true. The Israeli army, well-trained and determined, could probably have captured Cairo. Its troops are far superior to the Egyptian in old-fashioned warfare, but now far behind in the new Hitler blitzwrieg techniques—thanks to Soviet tanks and planes.

Chief cause of the present dynamite-laden crisis is a split personality inside the State Department; also to some extent inside the British Foreign Office.

The State Department has been torn between Arabian oil and Jewish Israel. Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr., a power in Union Oil of California and the man who handled the Iranian oil dispute, has sided with the Arabs. Some other State Department officials have sided with the Jews. Secretary Dulles has teetered in between. This split personality has caused fumbling and delay.

Senate Sidelights

New Jersey's conscientious Sen. Clifford Case, a possible substitute for Vice President Nixon on the GOP ticket, has been dubbed "the Adlai Stevenson of the Republican party.". . . Ohio's jolly Sen. George Bender seldom loses his temper, but he blew off steam the other day at his assistant, Mrs. C. D. Terry. The verbal explosion echoed through the Senate corridors. After taking a dose of hot words, Mrs. Terry spat back: "Don't speak to me like that, little man!". . . . Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson's friends are excusing his stand on the natural gas bill because he's a Texan. His opponents argue, however, that he should give up the Senate leadership if he must put running both house of Congress to suit the Texas oil-gas crowd. . . . Maryland's Sen. John Marshall Butler, who looks like a startled robin, was gleeful over the news that Ike would run again. Butler's GOP seat is at stake. In the past, Butler has been more loyal to Senator McCarthy than President Eisenhower, but has now discovered, belatedly, that Ike's political pulling power is greater than McCarthy's.

Capital Comments

Sen. Joe McCarthy, who has been cooking with gas lately, seems to have cooked his own goose. The Wisconsin whiz kid voted for his Texas millionaire friends instead of the folks back home on the natural gas bill. Reports from Wisconsin indicate this was the last straw; his constituents have had enough. Citizens who wouldn't speak against him two years ago are now openly suggesting that he move to Texas. He is representing the Texas oil billionaires, they say, so he may as well live there. . . . Example of how Wisconsin opinion has turned against McCarthy: "Time and the public's good sense have taken care of McCarthy," said Editor Roy Matson of the Madison State Journal, onetime McCarthy supporter. "He's a dead pidgeon."

Eisenhower Subtly 'Dumps' Nixon From Ticket

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower seems to have "dumped" Vice President Nixon off the Republican ticket for 1956.

There are denials galore purporting to contradict this, and there are wishful-thinking comments to the effect that Mr. Eisenhower is merely waiting for the Vice President to make up his mind whether or not he wants the nomination. But anybody who has had the most meagre experience in politics can recognize the kiss of death when it is revealed to the naked eye.

For, as now disclosed, Mr. Eisenhower told Mr. Nixon on Tuesday, Feb. 28, that he should "chart out his own course." In the next few days news dispatches began to quote "informed sources" as saying that the Vice President could have the renomination if he wants it. But the fact of the matter is that the President deliberately sidestepped at his press conference this week a reporter's question which asked whether, if Mr. Nixon decided that he wanted the nomination, the President would support him for it.

It's customary and traditional for a Presidential candidate not to try to announce his running mate in advance of a national convention. This is sound practice. But this week Mr. Eisenhower decided to discuss the Vice Presidency with the press. He revealed that he actually had put it up to Mr. Nixon last week to say whether he wants to be renominated.

What a strange position in which to put Mr. Nixon! Certainly Mr. Nixon has wanted to run. The mere fact that Mr. Eisenhower opened the question wide by expressing to the Vice President a doubt as to whether Mr. Nixon wanted to run and telling the entire press about it will be construed by politicians everywhere as a subtle way of saying that the President hopes Mr. Nixon will decide that he doesn't wish to run.

As for the hints that the President feels Mr. Nixon is a "comer" and hence would do well later on, perhaps in 1960, this is political bunkum of the soft-soap variety. If Mr. Nixon is dropped by Mr. Eisenhower now, it is a mark of disapproval and a stigma of political defectiveness which Mr. Nixon will never be able to overcome. It means the end of any Presidential ambitions for him if Mr. Eisenhower sticks to his present course.

The all-important question and answer at Wednesday's press conference, as made public in the stenographic transcript, reads as follows:

"Mr. President, when you say, sir, you have suggested to Mr. Nixon that he chart out his course, is the implication of that that if he elects to remain on the ticket you are content to have him as your running mate?

"The President: Well, I am not going to be pushed into corners here and say — and right now, at this moment — say what I would do in a hypothetical question involving about five if's. And I don't think you should expect me to.

"I do say this: I have no criticism of Vice President Nixon to make, either as a man, an associate or as my running mate on the ticket."

The President's answer shows embarrassment. He could easily have refused to discuss the subject any further. He could have stood on his statement in last week's press conference that he wouldn't discuss the Vice Presidential nomination till his own renomination had occurred. But instead Mr. Eisenhower chose to reveal some new facts to the reporters and thus opened up the entire subject, now, whether he likes it or not, He has placed himself in the position of having refused to endorse Mr. Nixon as his running mate.

Some comfort was taken by the friends of Mr. Nixon from the fact that the President said he had no criticism to make of Nixon "as a man, an associate or as my running mate on the ticket." This could mean "running mate" in the past — in 1952. Also there's a vast difference between heaping praise and recognizing what the President's advisers have tried to put over on him — namely, that Nixon is an alleged liability on the ticket. In other words, the President likes Mr. Nixon but, if the Vice President has to be sacrificed on the altar of expediency, Mr. Eisenhower is evidently willing to cut loose from Mr. Nixon in order to make sure of winning an election.

Those advisers who have sold this line to Mr. Eisenhower do not know what a Pandora's Box they are opening and what troubles lie ahead when Republicans start fighting Republicans over the Vice Presidential nomination. There are many Republicans who feel that Mr. Eisenhower ran out on the one man who made a spectacular fight against Communists in government and who now will feel that Mr. Eisenhower is running out on the man who exposed Alger Hiss.

For Mr. Nixon's main "crime" is that he offended Democrats on the Communist issue. There are weak-kneed Republicans who have been duped by the argument that it is necessary to get Democrats who were sore at Nixon to come over to the party. The fact is the Democrats who deserted their party on the anti-Communist issue in 1952 are disturbed today about the Eisenhower Administration's position on certain phases of this controversy. They now will be even more disturbed when Mr. Nixon, who symbolizes the anti-Communist fight and made a valiant campaign in 1954 in 11 Western states, is punished for his outspoken comments in that campaign.

But in politics sincerity and loyalty are to be found usually among the regular organization men—the amateurs are the ones who believe that organization workers can be enthused by letting them down.

How It Happened

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Arthur "Bugs" Baer is the originator of some of America's most-often-repeated sayings. In the absence of his regular column—"Baering Down On the News"—because of his illness, The Cumberland News is presenting Baer's own explanations of how he came to coin some of the more famous of his sayings.

"America never lost a war—or won a peace conference."

I had written this line after realizing that Europe had given Woodrow Wilson the business at Versailles. It was not an especially-pondered statement but it did contain some logic.

It was made famous by Will Rogers, the philosopher-cowboy, when he was on stage with the Ziegfeld Follies. Talented Rogers and myself were life-long friends.

When he asked me if he could use the line, I naturally said certainly. I knew if it were just written and lie there it would die the death of a sawdust doll in a knife fight.

Will used it and always gave me credit. "As Bugs Baer said" he would begin. He was very willing to pay for it but I wouldn't accept any money from Will Rogers, whom I admired very much. I'm proud to say the admiration was mutual. He was one of the greatest personalities of any monologuist on the stage.

I should know because even before I had written for Nat Wills, Raymond Hitchcock and Lew Dockstader (fellow who discovered Al Jolson).

I never got excited over my lines going astray because I had the conceit of confidence. I knew I'd write many more and so far I've been fortunate enough to do so.

Many of my lines have been credited to other people but you learn to live with things like that. One day I'll call the cows home and we'll have cream for supper.

The B-52 Problem

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

Both the magnitude and the urgency of the American defense problem are pretty well summed up in what may be called the B-52 problem, which is due to cause widespread and embittered public debate in the months immediately ahead.

Secretary of the Air Force Donald Quarles has now told both the Senate and House Armed Services Committees that he is perfectly satisfied with the existing B-52 program. This means that Secretary Quarles is satisfied with a current monthly output of only four of these long range jet bombers which have become the essential instruments of strategic airpower, although the Soviet output of their comparable "Bison" bombers is already three times higher than American B-52 output.

One man who is conspicuously dissatisfied, however, is the brilliant commander of the U. S. Strategic Air Command, Gen. Curtis LeMay. It must have taken some courage for Gen. LeMay to tackle the B-52 problem again this year. In 1952, he was tentatively slated to become Chief of Air Staff. He was actually brought into the Pentagon on a sort of trial basis. But his insistent demand for an expanded B-52 program got him into a hot row with the then-Secretaries of Defense and the Air Force, Robert A. Lovett and Thomas Finletter. So LeMay missed the top job in 1952, and was returned to SAC command.

Yet courage is one quality that Gen. LeMay has never lacked. In the budget-making period this year, he rather stormily demanded an emergency effort to step up B-52 output to the level of 40 to 50 planes a month, and to raise the production goal far enough to provide SAC with no less than 1,900 B-52s.

LeMay was turned down flat by the balance-the budget-firsters, but at present the Air Staff is all but unanimous that he ought not to have been turned down. And the wise and moderate chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, Richard Russell of Georgia, is now demanding an increase of one and one half billion dollars in this year's Air Force appropriations, mainly to provide LeMay with more B-52s.

The B-52 program LeMay wants will cost a pretty penny.

The bill for each of these great planes is eight million dollars; and the kind of increase in B-52 strength that LeMay wants would require tremendous concurrent increases in SAC's tanker fleet and airbase system on this continent. But if you are a survival-firster instead of a balance-the-budget-firster, Gen. LeMay's arguments appear to be absolutely unanswerable.

In brief, LeMay's Strategic Air Command now comprises 11 truly long range groups, whose obsolete B-36s are now being gradually replaced with B-52s, plus 28 medium range groups equipped with B-47s. Numerically, the present ratio is 330 inter-continental bombers to 1,420 medium range bombers, for there are more planes in the B-47 groups than in the long range groups.

The B-47 groups are planned to operate from overseas airbases, while the long range bombers are planned to operate from this hemisphere. All are to participate in the first strike, and Gen. LeMay insists that SAC cannot do its assigned job with a total striking power of less than 1,850 bombers.

But most of Gen. LeMay's force, being medium range, is hopelessly dependent on the overseas bases. Loss of those bases would cut his B-47 striking power almost exactly as much as the destruction of four-fifths of his B-47s on the ground before the war even started. Without the overseas bases, therefore, SAC could not possibly do its assigned job. Gen. LeMay might wound, but he could not kill the enemy.

This dependence of SAC on overseas bases is now being rendered acutely perilous in two different ways. Politically the bases are becoming less and less reliable, because of the general weakening of the Western Alliance. Strategically, the bases are becoming more and more vulnerable. The prime purposes of the Soviets' new ballistic missile of 1,500 miles range are to intimidate the American Allies who control LeMay's overseas bases; or if need be, to destroy those bases in one vast, widespread, simultaneous missile strike.

In two years time or a little more, therefore, these already doubtful foreign bases, on which SAC is so dependent, will quite certainly become utterly undependable. At that time, Gen. LeMay's power to kill may be lost any morning. He may be left, any morning, with only enough power to wound. By that time the Soviets will also have a large, wholly self-contained force of longe range jet bombers, with no crippling dependencies of any kind, and plenty of power to destroy this country.

What lies ahead, in sum, is a period when Gen LeMay can only be sure of wounding the enemy, while his Soviet opposite number can be sure of destroying the United States. Gen LeMay wants to replace his medium range B-47s with long range B-52s in order to maintain his power to kill during this interim period before the intercontinental ballistic missile will again change the power balance. In these circumstances the sublime satisfaction of Secretary Quarles is a trifle hard to comprehend.

New Evidence Found On Cause Of Athlete's Foot

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Deilen

Additional evidence is accumulating to show that ringworm of the feet is not acquired from shower or locker room floors or around swimming pools. If this is true we can throw away our bath slippers, shower clogs, and disinfectant foot baths.

The fungi causing athlete's foot are widely scattered in numerous enviorronments. They live peaceably on the skin of many healthy persons and do not invade the tissues unless skin resistance is lowered. Our new ideas on transmission of the organisms stem from deliberate attempts to induce the infection.

This can be done, but is so difficult most authorities are convinced that it needs more than mere exposure, such as occurs in showers. When a mass of ringworm organisms is placed between the toes, for example, nothing happens. But ringworm develops if the skin between the digits is macerated before the material is smeared on and the area is taped with adhesive thereafter.

Additional studies from the New York University postgraduate medical school demonstrate how spread of ringworm is resisted. These scientists had 68 uninfected volunteers soak one foot for 30 minutes in a tub containing living fungi. None acquired an active form of the disease.

Fungi remained on the foot in many others without causing trouble. In several, the organisms were found on the unexposed, or control, foot. In the second experiment, 20 men and women with another type of fungal infection were exposed to a similar water bath containing a species of fungus other than that causing their own disease.

Four acquired the second infection. The New York dermatologists reasoned that these 20 volunteers were susceptible to ringworm because they already had one form of the disease. The four who acquired the new infection did so because their tissues had lost resistance to ringworm in contrast to the 68 uninfected subjects in the first experiment, none of whom became infected.

These experiments demonstrate that contact plays a minor role in spreading fungal lesions. The main cause is lowering of skin resistance. Those who wish to avoid the eruption should practice good foot hygiene. The skin must be kept dry by changing the socks frequently and using a mildly fungicidal drying powder in the shoes.

Perforated shoes will help keep the feet aerated in hot weather. The highly susceptible should wash the feet in a non-alkaline detergent and wear socks made of absorbent fabrics such as cotton, wool, or a thick broad mesh nylon rather than rayon or spun nylon.

BABY'S BLOOD

O. H. N. writes: Does the fetus get its blood from the father or mother?

REPLY

From the mother, through the umbilical cord. I assume you are referring to blood in its literal sense.

ORANGE SKIN

Mrs. D. writes: Is it harmful for a boy of 11 to eat oranges, skin and all?

REPLY

No, but he should eject the seeds. Orange skin is not popular because not many people like its taste except as marmalade.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellan will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

Mr. and Mrs. Ginsberg were taking in a very sad movie, and Mrs. Ginsberg's sobs and sniffles could be heard all over the orchestra. Scoffed Mr. G.: "Why do you cry your eyes out over the imaginary troubles of people you don't know?"

"For the same reason," snapped Mrs. G. "that you carry on and yell your head off when a baseballer you don't know slides into home plate!"

A party of hunters finally talked their faithful cook, old Mose, into going with them while they tracked down a huge grizzly. "All right, I'll go," he conceded reluctantly, "but if you gets wrestling with that bear, and you looks 'round and don't see nobody—that's me."

MEAT, RICE 'N' PARMESAN EGGS

There couldn't be a better tasting main dish than this one! It's made of cut up canned luncheon meat with rice baked until bubbly in mushroom soup and sharp cheese. Some green pepper adds color and crisp texture. When the rice is tender, six eggs are broken over the top and baked until done under a generous covering of nippy flavored Parmesan cheese.

INGREDIENTS:

1, 12-oz. can luncheon meat, diced (cut some of the meat into wedges to use as garnish, if desired)
1 cup uncooked white rice
1, 10½-oz. can condensed cream of mushroom soup
1 cup grated sharp cheese
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon black pepper
2 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper
3½ cups water
1 cup cooked green peas
6 eggs
¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese

METHOD: Put the chopped luncheon meat (but not wedges), rice, mushroom soup, the 1 cup grated sharp cheese, salt, pepper, green pepper and water in a greased shallow baking dish. Stir gently to mix well. Place in a pre-heated 350° F. oven. Bake uncovered for 1 hour or until most of the liquid is absorbed. Add a small amount of water if mixture becomes too dry. Stir once during the baking to mix any uncooked grains of rice with the liquid.

Remove from the oven and stir in the cooked peas. Make six depressions in the rice-meat mixture. Break an egg into each depression. Arrange the wedges of luncheon meat around the eggs. Sprinkle with the grated Parmesan cheese. Return to the oven and bake 10 to 15 minutes or until the eggs are set. Serve at once.

This recipe makes 6 servings.

Set regulator to broil. Place steak on broiler rack. Insert broiler pan and rack so the top of a 1-inch steak is 2 inches from the heat and 2-inch steak is 3 inches from the heat. When one side is browned, season, turn and finish cooking on the second side. Season.

Steaks cut 1 inch thick require 18 to 20 minutes for rare steak and 20 to 25 minutes for medium-done steak. Steaks cut 2 inches thick require 30 to 35 minutes for rare steak and 35 to 45 minutes for medium-done steak.

MEAT, RICE 'N' PARMESAN EGGS

There couldn't be a better tasting main dish than this one! It's made of cut up canned luncheon meat with rice baked until bubbly in mushroom soup and sharp cheese. Some green pepper adds color and crisp texture. When the rice is tender, six eggs are broken over the top and baked until done under a generous covering of nippy flavored Parmesan cheese.

INGREDIENTS:

1, 12-oz. can luncheon meat, diced (cut some of the meat into wedges to use as garnish, if desired)
1 cup uncooked white rice
1, 10½-oz. can condensed cream of mushroom soup
1 cup grated sharp cheese
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon black pepper
2 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper
3½ cups water
1 cup cooked green peas
6 eggs
¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese

METHOD: Put the chopped luncheon meat (but not wedges), rice, mushroom soup, the 1 cup grated sharp cheese, salt, pepper, green pepper and water in a greased shallow baking dish. Stir gently to mix well. Place in a pre-heated 350° F. oven. Bake uncovered for 1 hour or until most of the liquid is absorbed. Add a small amount of water if mixture becomes too dry. Stir once during the baking to mix any uncooked grains of rice with the liquid.

Remove from the oven and stir in the cooked peas. Make six depressions in the rice-meat mixture. Break an egg into each depression. Arrange the wedges of luncheon meat around the eggs. Sprinkle with the grated Parmesan cheese. Return to the oven and bake 10 to 15 minutes or until the eggs are set. Serve at once.

This recipe makes 6 servings.

MEAT COOKERY Quiz

Q. What is the name of this cut?
A. Veal Blade Shoulder Roast.
Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?
A. It is from the shoulder section of the animal. It contains portions of rib and blade bones similar to beef blade pot roast.
Q. How is it prepared?
A. It is placed fat side up on a rack in an open roasting pan. A roast meat thermometer is inserted so that the bulb reaches the center of the thickest part, but does not rest in fat or on bone. Water is not added and the pan is not covered. Fresh veal is roasted in a low oven (300°F.) until the thermometer registers 170°F. If a thermometer is not used, allow 25 to 35 minutes per pound for cooking.

Lemon Prune Pudding

Combine lemon pudding, sugar and salt in a (2-quart) saucepan. Add lemon juice and egg yolks and beat until smooth. Add water and cook until thick, stirring constantly. Fold bread crumbs into pudding and pour mixture into a greased (1½-quart) casserole. Combine prune pulp and pecans and spread over the top of the pudding. Beat egg whites until foamy, but not stiff. Add sugar gradually, beating after each addition. Continue beating until mixture is shiny and holds stiff peaks. Fold in lemon rind. Spread lemon meringue over top of pudding. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for fifteen minutes or until meringue is golden brown.

Quality Cakes

Thrifty is the homemaker who uses lard as the shortening in making light, tender, delicious cakes, for lard has the greatest shortening value of any fat on the market. It's economical, too. When substituting lard for butter in a recipe, subtract 2 tablespoons of lard for each cup of butter used.

Quiz Yourself On Foreign Cookery Terms

Many of us think of foreign cookery as an exotic world of splendid spices and simmering sauces. Yet many of our popular foods today are adaptations of foreign recipes.

If you like to serve dishes with foreign flavor you become more familiar with the following terms. How many can you identify?

1. An acid mixture usually seasoned, and with or without oil in which meat (uncooked or cooked) is allowed to stand to give flavor.
2. A meat stock or broth usually prepared with beef.
3. Food cut into thin match-like strips.
4. Cubes of bread toasted or fried and served over various dishes and in soups.
5. A highly seasoned relish of Oriental origin which contains fruits and vegetables.

Answers. 1. Marinade, 2. Bouillon, 3. Julienne, 4. Croutons, 5. Chutney.

Pointers On Braising

Pot-roasts, Swiss steaks, "birds," chops and other cuts cooked by braising should be browned slowly in order to retain the attractive brown color during cooking.

Robin Hood's Feast

This main dish is called "Robin Hood's Feast" because it's made just as it might have been served to his happy band in Sherwood Forest! Your children will think it's fun to eat their vegetables Robin Hood's way!

When properly prepared a stewing hen is a good buy. You'll especially like this recipe for fixing a chicken dinner in a stew kettle because there's only one pot to wash.

INGREDIENTS:

2 tablespoons cooking fat
1, 4½ to 5 lb. stewing chicken, cut up
6 cups water
2 bay leaves
1 clove garlic, minced
1 tablespoon salt
½ teaspoon black pepper
10 small onions or 6 medium onions, halved
6 medium carrots, scraped and halved
1 cup whole kernel yellow corn (fresh, frozen or canned)
1 cup uncooked white rice
2 tablespoons water
1 tablespoon cornstarch

METHOD: Melt the fat in a large soup kettle or roasting pan. Wash the chicken in cold water and dry. Add to the fat. Brown on all sides. Slowly add 4 cups of the water. Add the bay leaves, garlic, salt and pepper. Cover and simmer for 2 hours or until the chicken is very tender. About 40 minutes before the chicken is done, add the onions and carrots. Cover and continue cooking for 15 minutes, then stir in the corn, rice and the remaining 2 cups of water. Be certain all the rice is covered with liquid. Cover and continue cooking until the rice is tender.

Add the 2 tablespoons of water to the cornstarch. Mix to form a paste. Spoon some of the hot gravy from around the chicken into the cornstarch paste. Stir the paste and gravy mixture into the stewing kettle. Gently stir and simmer until the mixture thickens. Add more water if a thinner mixture is desired. This recipe makes 6 servings.

Sirloin Steak Accessory

An accompaniment for sirloin steak calls for French-fried onions. To prepare this crunchy dish, slice 6 medium-sized onions ¼-inch thick and separate the rings. Combine 1 cup of milk and ¼ cup of water and pour over the onions. Let this combination stand for 20 to 30 minutes turning occasionally to let the slices absorb the liquid. Dip the onion slices into seasoned flour. Fry in deep hot lard (365° F.) until golden brown. Yield: 8 servings.

Chinese Treat

Cut 1 4-ounce can of Vienna-style sausages into thin slices. Drain 1 No. 303 can of bean sprouts thoroughly. Add sliced sausages and bean sprouts to 6 eggs and mix well. Add 1 tablespoon of soy sauce and turn the mixture into a frying-pan greased with 3 tablespoons of butter or margarine. Cook, stirring occasionally until thickened. Heat 1 4-ounce can of Vienna-style sausages. Turn the omelet onto a hot platter and garnish it with the whole suasages. Yield: 6 servings.

Want steamed vegetables to taste their best? Douse them with a couple of tablespoons of butter when they have finished cooking.

Lamb Accompaniment

As an unusual accompaniment for a leg of lamb roast, use mint meringue peaches. To prepare, beat 2 egg whites until stiff. Add ½ cup mint jelly and continue beating until well mixed. Place a large spoonful of the mint meringue in each of 8 or 10 peach halves and place in the oven or under the broiler just long enough for the meringue to become lightly browned. Serve hot.

A teenager may put on weight very slowly, or very fast. There can be an unevenness about the way all parts of the body grow.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Growing Pains

Most girls around junior-high school age suddenly start worrying about their figures. Looking around their group they see that many are different sizes . . . too short or too tall, too thin or too fat, too this or too that.

Jane, for instance, felt as if she would never stop growing. She was the tallest in the room . . . even ahead of the boys. At parties she would slump down in her chair and try to look shorter when she was with the rest of the crowd. But, nothing helped . . . she was still the tallest. And, none of the boys were tall enough for her at dancing school.

Or take Nancy whom everyone called "Shortie." She hasn't grown even a part of an inch in the past year. She's beginning to think she will always be looked down upon because she isn't the height of most of the gang . . . who knows, she may always stay like she is . . . she tells her mother.

Perhaps you didn't know that growth is not regular . . . some grow slowly at one time and quickly at other times. There is nothing unusual about either Jane or Nancy. Even though they may be in the same class and are the same age, each is going through puberty in a little different way. Growing up . . . the time when she changes from a child to a grownup (or an adolescent) is not an easy business for any girl. It can't just happen overnight. Usually, it takes years and these are wonderful years we call the "teens."

Summer Fashions Displayed

These young ladies were among models in a fashion show presented this week by Montgomery Ward in Cumberland. Left to right they are Sandy Deremer in a black wardrobe-tailored blouse with black and white striped pedal pushers; Pat Lewis with a striped coat blouse over wide-cuffed terra cotta pedal pushers; Sandy Hatfield in a terra cotta wardrobe-tailored sleeveless blouse with striped cuff shorts, and Carol Matthews, in a black T-shirt with terra cotta Bermuda shorts.

Chipped Beef Suggestion

Chopped beef is usually combined with a creamy white sauce and served over toast points for a light luncheon. Try a change and serve this creamed beef mixture over waffles for a wake-up treat. Garnish the plate with a spiced peach or crabapple.

simmer for several minutes but do not boil. Sauce will be on thin side. Meanwhile toast bread and spread with butter; cut each slice into 4 triangles and keep hot in low oven. Spoon shrimp into 4 scallop shells or other individual dishes; perch 2 triangles of buttered toast at sides of each shell; accompany with extra toast. Makes 4 first-course servings. Or serve with toast or rice for 3 main-course servings. Note: Use the shrimp that count from 24 to 28 per pound for this recipe.

Shrimp Notes

Know what a real live shrimp looks like? It resembles a lobster, in miniature. The claws of a shrimp are small and the "head" contains the vital organs. Only the edible tail — shrimp as you know it in the market—is sold.

Shrimp varies in size—from tiny to very large.

A handy gadget for removing the shell and deveining shrimp may be bought. The gadget is fine to use when you want to shell and devein raw shrimp, but you can't use it for shelling and deveining cooked shrimp.

In buying fresh shrimp, make sure that the flesh adheres to the shell. Flesh that shrinks from the shell is usually a sign of undesirable age.

The parliament of Norway is called the Strothing.

Sardine Dip Supreme

1 can (3¼ or 4 oz.) sardines in mustard sauce
1 container (8 oz) cottage cheese
2 tablespoons mayonnaise or salad dressing
¼ teaspoon garlic salt
Pimiento strips

Mash sardines with fork; add cottage cheese, mayonnaise or salad dressing and garlic salt; mix well. Cover; chill until serving time. Garnish with pimiento strips. Makes about 1½ cups dip.

Breakfast Variety

For variety at your breakfast table, serve lamb chops or patties. For a he-man breakfast, serve grapefruit, broiled lamb chops, broiled tomatoes, English muffins, butter or margarine and a beverage. For a lighter breakfast, plan on tomato juice, broiled lamb patties, biscuits, jam or jelly and a beverage.

Corn Waffle Squares Perfect Base For Hors D'oeuvres Spreads

Here's a quick trick appetizer idea that's a real prize-winner. Crisp corn waffles cut into bite-size portions and topped with your favorite spread. Deviled ham, chopped egg, cheese, fish or cold cuts all gain added elegance from the corn flavored squares.

Basic Corn Waffle Recipe

1 12 oz. pkg. Corn Muffin Mix
1 egg
1¼ cups milk
2 tablespoons melted shortening

Empty contents of package into bowl; add egg, milk and shortening, and beat until smooth. Let stand 5 to 10 minutes. Bake on hot waffle iron until golden brown. Makes about 6 waffles. Cool and cut into bite-size pieces. Spread with various toppings and garnish.

New Way To Deal With Shrimp

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

New shrimp recipe!—One we like so much we are putting it on our list of favorites. It boasts an unctuous sauce of an attractive color — the sort we remember eating in Paris. Another inducement: no separate cooking of the shrimp in water for this dish.

Flavor? The sauce has a slight bite to it. All the better, we say, to eat with the bland seafood.

We served this shrimp in scallop shells as a first course for four, bringing on plenty of toast for sauce-dabbing. After it came broiled lobster tails with melted butter, a big salad of romaine, cucumber and French dressing. Dessert was an apple cobbler with a soft custard sauce made from a packaged mix with brandy flavoring added. Roast chicken would make a good follow-up for this shrimp, too. And dessert might be omitted in favor of cheese and fruit.

Or use this shrimp as a main course, serving three. Spoon it over rice, if you like, instead of toast. Add a cooked green vegetable — green peas, snapbeans, broccoli or asparagus. A fine main course you'll have, this way, for lunch or supper.

POPULAR SHRIMP in a delightful sauce.

One word of advice: this recipe calls for curry powder, and these powders vary in flavor and strength. Find a curry powder to your taste. One we particularly like is imported from India.

Ingredients: 1 pound shrimp, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon flour, ⅛ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon celery salt, ½ teaspoon curry powder, ½ teaspoon paprika, 2 tablespoons chili sauce, ½ pint (1 cup) light cream, Hot sauce, 6 to 8 slices bread, butter.

Method: Shell and devein shrimp, using cold water to clean; dry well. Heat butter in 1-quart wide-bottomed saucepan until it hisses. Add shrimp and cook over moderate heat, stirring gently until opaque through and tinged with pink. Remove fro mheat. Sprinkle flour, salt, celery salt, curry powder and paprika over shrimp. Return to low heat and stir to coat; add Hot sauce, chili sauce and cream; stir constantly until thickened and simmering;

MRS. FILBERT'S MARGARINE

Senate Cloakroom

by Sen. J. Glenn Beall

Seldom have I seen such unanimity as that which was shown by Maryland farmers concerning the proposed "90 per cent of parity" provisions in the 1956 farm bill.

Without exception, the dozens of communications I received on the subject all contained strong objections to high, rigid price supports.

Typical of the letters was one from a Boonsboro constituent, who wrote: "We farmers feel that the rigid price supports of the past are the cause of the mess we are in today."

Free State Spirit

In addition to such expressions of individual opinion, I also received numerous telegrams and letters from such organizations as the Maryland Farm Bureau, the Maryland State Grange, county Farm Bureaus and the Frederick Chamber of Commerce.

"We hope you will vote against rigid price support at 90 per cent of parity," chorused the various men's groups, and the women's auxiliaries echoed, "We want flexible supports."

The spirit reflected in the various communications was typical of that which is traditional in "the Free State," and I was glad to add my voice to the opposition to the proposed high-support program.

Long Fight Ended

Turning from the Agricultural Bill, I would like to give you a capsule report on an agreement which provided a happy ending to my nine-year fight for a parkway along the old Chesapeake and Ohio Canal.

The agreement, which ensures that the historic canal will be preserved and that the parkway will be constructed along the nearby bluffs, was reached at a meeting attended by Representative DeWitt Hyde; Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay; Conrad L. Wirth, director of the National Park Service, and myself.

"Happy Solution"

Commenting editorially on our get-together," the Washington Post and Times-Herald said:

"It is excellent news that the National Park Service has agreed with Senator Beall on construction of a parkway from Cumberland to Hancock along the bluffs overlooking the Potomac.

"The plan to preserve the old Chesapeake & Ohio Canal intact and provide a parkway too is indeed a "happy solution," as Secretary McKay described it. . . .

"Both the canal development and the parkway are important steps in opening the resources of the Potomac Valley, and we hope that the Park Service will not be diverted from pushing either project."

Hagerstown thrice spoiled the fun, knocking out Fort Hill in 1951, Allegany in 1952 and Beall in 1955. Frederick, which enters the current tourney with a 16-2 record, never has won district honors. Here are the past winners: 1947—Allegany. 1948—Fort Hill. 1949—Fort Hill. 1950—Allegany. 1951—Hagerstown. 1952 — Hagerstown. 1953 — Allegany. 1954 — Allegany. 1955—Hagerstown.

Canadian Leads Pensacola Open On Sub-Par 68

Kesselring Holds Two-Stroke Edge

PENSACOLA, Fla., March 8 (AP)—Young Jerry Kesselring of Toronto, Canada, fired a flock of seven birdies today for a four under par 68 in the opening round of Pensacola's new $12,500 Open Golf Tournament.

The 27-year-old pro blistered the greens on the out nine with a four under par 32. He came home in a regulation 36, despite a two over par six on the 17th hole. On that hole, he sent his second shot over the green.

The round gave him a two stroke edge on the field, which registered nine sub-par scores and 11 par 72s.

Five pros were bracketed at 70. They were Don January, Abilene, Tex.; Jay Hebert, Sanford, Fla.; George Bigham, Kansas City, Mo.; Buck White, Memphis, Tenn.; and Dow Finsterwald, Bedford Heights, Ohio.

Others bettering par, despite strong winds and biting cold, were Dick Mayer, St. Petersburg, Fla.; John Serafin, Fox Hill, Pa.; and Joe Black, Abilene, Tex., all with one under 71.

Ed Furgol toured the 6,627-yard course in par 72. Another co-favorite, Doug Ford, followed with 73; and Bob Toski, was three over par at 75.

The common cold costs victims an estimated two billion dollars a year.

Kesselring Holds Two-Stroke Edge

PENSACOLA, Fla., March 8 (AP)—Young Jerry Kesselring of Toronto, Canada, fired a flock of seven birdies today for a four under par 68 in the opening round of Pensacola's new $12,500 Open Golf Tournament.

The 27-year-old pro blistered the greens on the out nine with a four under par 32. He came home in a regulation 36, despite a two over par six on the 17th hole. On that hole, he sent his second shot over the green.

The round gave him a two stroke edge on the field, which registered nine sub-par scores and 11 par 72s.

Five pros were bracketed at 70. They were Don January, Abilene, Tex.; Jay Hebert, Sanford, Fla.; George Bigham, Kansas City, Mo.; Buck White, Memphis, Tenn.; and Dow Finsterwald, Bedford Heights, Ohio.

Others bettering par, despite strong winds and biting cold, were Dick Mayer, St. Petersburg, Fla.; John Serafin, Fox Hill, Pa.; and Joe Black, Abilene, Tex., all with one under 71.

Ed Furgol toured the 6,627-yard course in par 72. Another co-favorite, Doug Ford, followed with 73; and Bob Toski, was three over par at 75.

The common cold costs victims an estimated two billion dollars a year.

Long Shot Wins Bowie Feature

Informant Returns $26.80 In Handicap

BOWIE, Md., March 8 (AP) — A long shot named Informant owned by Mrs. E. H. Augustus of Cleveland skimmed over the mud of Bowie race track today to win the Burch Memorial Handicap from 16 other starters in the east's first major horse race of 1956.

Informant nosed out Mrs. Ben Cohen's War Age and W. H. Bishop Stable's Golden Admiral was third by a head over J. F. McHugh's River Jordan.

It was the first race since last June for Informant who ran the three quarters of a mile in 1:11 4-5 on a track drenched by morning rain.

Informant, ridden by Nick Shuk, survived a foul claim by Joseph A. Regalbuto on War Age to take down the $7,925 first prize. The 4-year-old gelding returned $26.80, $13.20 and $8.60. War Age paid $4.00 and $3.60, while Golden Admiral returned $5.80.

Saxton Must Get New Pilot To Fight In NY

SYRACUSE, N. Y., March 8 (AP) —State Athletic Commission Chairman Julius Helfand said today he would recognize Johnny Saxton as world welterweight champion if he beats Carmen Basilio in Chicago next Wednesday but he still wouldn't permit Saxton to fight in his home state.

The only way Saxton, a native New Yorker who once held the title, could fight in New York would be if he acquired a new manager, said Helfand. Saxton is managed by Frank (Blinky) Palermo. Helfand won't give Palermo a license.

To Undergo Surgery

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz., March 8 (AP)—Gordon Sundin, one of the Baltimore Orioles' best young pitching prospects, has consented to undergo surgery for correction of Paul Richards learned today.

Sundin, a big 18-year-old right-hander from Minneapolis, has been flown to Baltimore and will be operated on shortly, Richards said. Sundin is troubled by a sharpening of his right elbow joint.

Boston Red Sox Happy Over Having Bonus Boy Baumann

Frank Baumann

BY WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Association
Sports Editor

SARASOTA, Fla. — It's not always gold that glitters but the Red Sox, particularly Manager Mike Higgins, hopes that the gold the Red Sox planted in Frank Baumann will do some glittering this year.

Most concerned of all, probably, is Baumann himself, who has the most gold of all the bonus rookies on this gold-plated club.

Baumann is a pitcher, a left-hander, just the type the Red Sox need. He could be a tremendous pitcher, as everyone in camp and the scouts will tell you. Some say he is a "Herbie Score with control." Higgins will tell you he hasn't the fast ball that Score possesses but he has more control.

The Red Sox, after quite a bidding battle, shelled out a figure that is placed at $65,000 by some, at $80,000 by others and even more by a few others. Baumann, interviewed in camp here, said that the figure "between 65 and 80 Gs is close."

The "most valuable" player in high school baseball in St. Louis—Central High — in 1951 and 1952, when he hurled eight no-hitters, Baumann was sought by virtually every club.

"MY DAD and I discussed all the offers," Frank told us in camp here, "and he left it up to me to make the decision. I wanted to go with the Red Sox so I signed with them."

After signing Baumann was sent to Louisville, a Triple A club, right off and he did fairly well, winning four games and striking out 69 while walking but 55 in 88 innings pitched.

In 1953 he really came on. Frank proceeded to win 10 games while losing one and then the Army called. The game he lost was a 10-inning 2-1 affair.

The rest of the 1953 season Frank was in camp in Arkansas and then in 1954 he was sent to Fort Lewis, Wash. Here he did a little pitching and hurt his arm. Worst of all he began to take on weight and he ballooned up to 236.

This last winter, however, he dieted and he has dropped over 30 pounds. He spent most of the winter worrying about his arm and came down here early to work it out. He says it feels fine now.

Frank played both basketball and football in high school but baseball was his life. It was instilled in him by his father, who also played ball. Baumann, Sr., quit baseball, however, to get married.

Frank is married and has one son, Scott. With some of the bonus money he bought his parents a house. He plans to buy one himself this year and may settle in Sarasota.

Lightburn, Khalfi Fight At Garden

EW YORK, March 8 (AP)—Ludwig Lightburn, 21-year-old lightweight contender from British Honduras, is favored to rack up his seventh straight victory tomorrow night in a television 10-rounder with Algerian Hoacine Khalfi at Madison Square Garden.

Lightburn, now the No. 5 contender, outclassed the 28-year-old Khalfi five months ago and is a 2-1 choice to repeat. Khalfi subs for L. C. Morgan, Dayton, Ohio, prospect who has been suspended by the Cleveland commission because of a managerial problem.

The bout will be broadcast and telecast (NBC

Informant Returns $26.80 In Handicap

BOWIE, Md., March 8 (AP) — A long shot named Informant owned by Mrs. E. H. Augustus of Cleveland skimmed over the mud of Bowie race track today to win the Burch Memorial Handicap from 16 other starters in the east's first major horse race of 1956.

Informant nosed out Mrs. Ben Cohen's War Age and W. H. Bishop Stable's Golden Admiral was third by a head over J. F. McHugh's River Jordan.

It was the first race since last June for Informant who ran the three quarters of a mile in 1:11 4-5 on a track drenched by morning rain.

Informant, ridden by Nick Shuk, survived a foul claim by Joseph A. Regalbuto on War Age to take down the $7,925 first prize. The 4-year-old gelding returned $26.80, $13.20 and $8.60. War Age paid $4.00 and $3.60, while Golden Admiral returned $5.80.

Saxton Must Get New Pilot To Fight In NY

SYRACUSE, N. Y., March 8 (AP) —State Athletic Commission Chairman Julius Helfand said today he would recognize Johnny Saxton as world welterweight champion if he beats Carmen Basilio in Chicago next Wednesday but he still wouldn't permit Saxton to fight in his home state.

The only way Saxton, a native New Yorker who once held the title, could fight in New York would be if he acquired a new manager, said Helfand. Saxton is managed by Frank (Blinky) Palermo. Helfand won't give Palermo a license.

To Undergo Surgery

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz., March 8 (AP)—Gordon Sundin, one of the Baltimore Orioles' best young pitching prospects, has consented to undergo surgery for correction of Paul Richards learned today.

Sundin, a big 18-year-old right-hander from Minneapolis, has been flown to Baltimore and will be operated on shortly, Richards said. Sundin is troubled by a sharpening of his right elbow joint.

Boston Red Sox Happy Over Having Bonus Boy Baumann

Frank Baumann

BY WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Association
Sports Editor

SARASOTA, Fla. — It's not always gold that glitters but the Red Sox, particularly Manager Mike Higgins, hopes that the gold the Red Sox planted in Frank Baumann will do some glittering this year.

Most concerned of all, probably, is Baumann himself, who has the most gold of all the bonus rookies on this gold-plated club.

Baumann is a pitcher, a left-hander, just the type the Red Sox need. He could be a tremendous pitcher, as everyone in camp and the scouts will tell you. Some say he is a "Herbie Score with control." Higgins will tell you he hasn't the fast ball that Score possesses but he has more control.

The Red Sox, after quite a bidding battle, shelled out a figure that is placed at $65,000 by some, at $80,000 by others and even more by a few others. Baumann, interviewed in camp here, said that the figure "between 65 and 80 Gs is close."

The "most valuable" player in high school baseball in St. Louis—Central High — in 1951 and 1952, when he hurled eight no-hitters, Baumann was sought by virtually every club.

"MY DAD and I discussed all the offers," Frank told us in camp here, "and he left it up to me to make the decision. I wanted to go with the Red Sox so I signed with them."

After signing Baumann was sent to Louisville, a Triple A club, right off and he did fairly well, winning four games and striking out 69 while walking but 55 in 88 innings pitched.

In 1953 he really came on. Frank proceeded to win 10 games while losing one and then the Army called. The game he lost was a 10-inning 2-1 affair.

The rest of the 1953 season Frank was in camp in Arkansas and then in 1954 he was sent to Fort Lewis, Wash. Here he did a little pitching and hurt his arm. Worst of all he began to take on weight and he ballooned up to 236.

This last winter, however, he dieted and he has dropped over 30 pounds. He spent most of the winter worrying about his arm and came down here early to work it out. He says it feels fine now.

Frank played both basketball and football in high school but baseball was his life. It was instilled in him by his father, who also played ball. Baumann, Sr., quit baseball, however, to get married.

Frank is married and has one son, Scott. With some of the bonus money he bought his parents a house. He plans to buy one himself this year and may settle in Sarasota.

Lightburn, Khalfi Fight At Garden

EW YORK, March 8 (AP)—Ludwig Lightburn, 21-year-old lightweight contender from British Honduras, is favored to rack up his seventh straight victory tomorrow night in a television 10-rounder with Algerian Hoacine Khalfi at Madison Square Garden.

Lightburn, now the No. 5 contender, outclassed the 28-year-old Khalfi five months ago and is a 2-1 choice to repeat. Khalfi subs for L. C. Morgan, Dayton, Ohio, prospect who has been suspended by the Cleveland commission because of a managerial problem.

The bout will be broadcast and telecast (NBC-TV, Radio, 10 p. m., (EST).

Basilio Arrives For Title Fight

CHICAGO, March 8 (AP) — World welterweight champion Carmen Basilio poked into town today for his title defense against Johnny Saxton Wednesday night, skipped a boxing workout, but sparred with sports writers.

After two days of cancelled plane flights from Syracuse, N. Y., Basilio arrived by train this morning and set up headquarters at the Parkway Hotel on the near north side.

Saxton has been training here since Feb. 15.

National Golf Day Is Set For June 9

CHICAGO, March 9 (AP) — Jack Fleck and Fay Crocker, 1955 U.S. men and women's Open champions, will match scores against the nation's golfers June 9 in the fifth annual "National Golf Day," the PGA announced today.

The PGA said it expected a record number of players for the charity series which last year attracted 157,000 scorers and in the last four years has netted $475,000 for leading charities and worthy golf projects.

Fleck and Miss Crocker will play their "National Golf Day" rounds at the Oak Hill Country Club in Rochester, N.Y., site of the 1956 U.S.G.A. Open.

Last year 39,000 men and women won "I Beat Ed Furgol" or "I Beat Patty Berg" medals by bettering Furgol's 72 and Miss Berg's 77.

Cover Will Build 50 Homes In Western LaVale Section

One of the foremost local real estate developers and builders announced yesterday he has started work on a 50-home subdivision in the western end of LaVale.

Ralph G. Cover, Bowling Green, reported the project after just completing a 26-home development in LaVale Court, off Route 40 near Allegany Grove.

The 50 homes will be constructed in Coverwood, a section of land owned by Cover in the Winchester Road-Braddock Road area.

The ranch style homes will be constructed to cost $15,000 and over, Cover added.

A central sewage disposal basin will be constructed along Route 49, Cover explained.

Cover began building homes in 1946 after he was discharged from Army service during World War II. His first development was in Bowling Green. He constructed 76 brick homes in the medium-priced field in what is called "Coverville."

Since 1946, Cover has built a total of 220 homes in the Cumberland area.

Addition Planned

Carlton Brinfield has obtained a permit to build a two-story addition to a dwelling at 1825, Lot 27, Bedford Street, records of the building engineer show.

Cost of the 20 by 14 foot structure will be $2,000 and will include a garage with three rooms overhead. The foundation will be concrete block, walls of brick and frame and the roof of asphalt shingle.

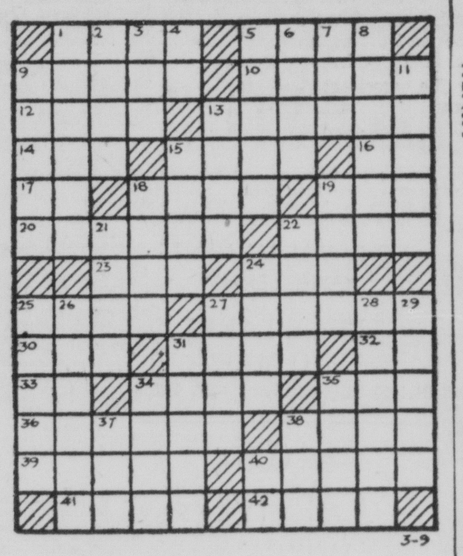
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

W G I Q R G W T E Y R S Y L W Y T W G J
B K L Z . Y L Z Y T Q L N J S W Y K L — A I S Z .

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: GREAT MEN ARE SELDOM OVER SCRUPULOUS IN THE ARRANGEMENT OF THEIR ATTIRE—DICKENS.

MASTERLY PLAY

South played the hand below in masterly fashion, overcoming the 5-0 trump break.

North dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

North: ♠ K 10 3 ♥ 6 4 2 ♦ A Q 9 2 ♣ A 7 3
West: ♠ — ♥ Q J 9 ♦ K 10 7 6 5 3 ♣ Q 8 4 2
East: ♠ 9 8 7 6 2 ♥ 10 8 7 5 ♦ J 4 ♣ J 5
South: ♠ A Q J 5 4 ♥ A K 3 ♦ 8 ♣ K 10 9 6

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ♦	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	4 NT	Pass
5 ♥	Pass	6 ♠	Pass
Pass	Pass

Many players (including some reputed experts) would decline to bid two spades on the South hand in response to one diamond because of the singleton in partner's suit, but that is nonsense. These same players (including the same reputed experts) cannot point to their slam-bidding records with great pride.

West opened the heart queen South won and led a spade to dummy, discovering that all five outstanding trumps were banked with East. Nevertheless, South went right ahead and drew trumps, discarding two hearts from dummy.

West, meanwhile, discarded a club, three diamonds and one heart. He realized that he could not guard all the suits, and guessed that he would have to keep club protection as well as a diamond stopper. Unfortunately for himself, however, he was opposed by a declarer who watched every discard and drew the proper deductions. South laid down the heart king, then took the diamond finesse. When the queen held—as it had to if there was to be any chance for the contract—South discarded his last heart on the diamond ace, then played a third round of diamonds discarding his own club six.

West was now in with the diamond king and had nothing but clubs to return. On his lead of the four, South ducked in dummy, collected East's jack with the king, and then led the club ten for the marked finesse against West's queen.

Observe that it was vital to the timing for South to cash his second heart trick before taking the diamond finesse.

J. Holland Rannells, president of Potomac Valley TV has just returned from a trip to Western Europe and has the following to report concerning television in Europe.

Of the 7 countries visited only 4 had any kind of TV reception. Three of these countries have one channel and only one country has just recently added a second channel. The programming is not near up to American standards and there is only about 5 to 7 hours of programming per day. Most of the money obtained to operate the TV stations comes from tax collected monthly on each TV set and the tax is so comparatively high that few individual homes have TV sets.

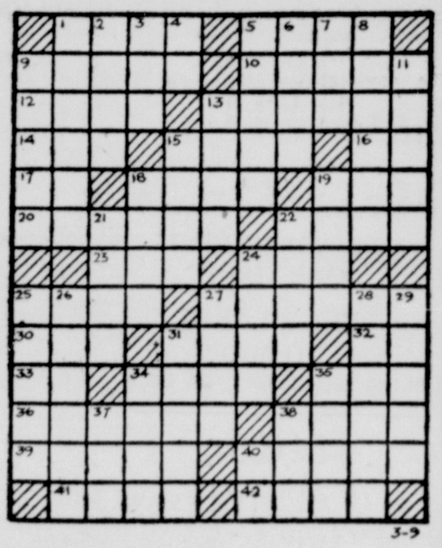
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

W G I Q R G W T E Y R S Y L W Y T W G J
B K L Z , Y L Z Y T Q L N J S W Y K L — A I S Z .

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: GREAT MEN ARE SELDOM OVER SCRUPULOUS IN THE ARRANGEMENT OF THEIR ATTIRE—DICKENS.

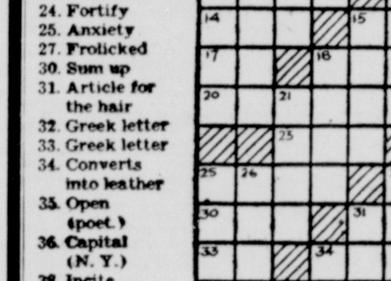
Contract Bridge

by Josephine Culbertson

MASTERLY PLAY

South played the hand below in masterly fashion, overcoming the 5-0 trump break.

North dealer.
North-South vulnerable.



The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ♦	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	4 NT	Pass
5 ♥	Pass	6 ♠	Pass
Pass	Pass

Many players (including some reputed experts) would decline to bid two spades on the South hand in response to one diamond because of the singleton in partner's suit, but that is nonsense. These same players (including the same reputed experts) cannot point to their slam-bidding records with great pride.

West opened the heart queen South won and led a spade to dummy, discovering that all five outstanding trumps were banked with East. Nevertheless, South went right ahead and drew trumps, discarding two hearts from dummy.

West, meanwhile, discarded a club, three diamonds and one heart. He realized that he could not guard all the suits, and guessed that he would have to keep club protection as well as a diamond stopper. Unfortunately for himself, however, he was opposed by a declarer who watched every discard and drew the proper deductions. South laid down the heart king, then took the diamond finesse. When the queen held—as it had to if there was to be any chance for the contract—South discarded his last heart on the diamond ace, then played a third round of diamonds discarding his own club six.

West was now in with the diamond king and had nothing but clubs to return. On his lead of the four, South ducked in dummy, collected East's jack with the king, and then led the club ten for the marked finesse against West's queen.

Observe that it was vital to the timing for South to cash his second heart trick before taking the diamond finesse.

European Television!

J. Holland Rannells, president of Potomac Valley TV has just returned from a trip to Western Europe and has the following to report concerning television in Europe.

Of the 7 countries visited only 4 had any kind of TV reception. Three of these countries have one channel and only one country has just recently added a second channel. The programming is not near up to American standards and there is only about 5 to 7 hours of programming per day. Most of the money obtained to operate the TV stations comes from tax collected monthly on each TV set and the tax is so comparatively high that few individual homes have TV sets.

City Workers Ask SS Withholding

All but two of the city's permanent employes have authorized social security withholdings from their wages.

Whether the city will officially come under provisions of the act will not be known until July 1 when empoyes must vote on the question.

But the fact that the majority has authorized withholdings to begin is taken as a sure sign the move will be approved.

Should employes vote to come under social security, the withholdings will be retroactive to January 1. To offset anyone's having to pay a lump sum for the first six months, the city agreed to begin withholding the tax if the employe desired.

The Police and Fire Departments are not affected.

Market Reaches Its Third Record High Within Week

NEW YORK, March 8 (AP) — A strong showing by railroads and a wide cross-section of individual issues carried the stock market today to its third record high within a week.

Gains went to around 4 or 5 points and losses were held to around a point.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 70 cents to a record high of $183.40, topping by 40 cents a new peak which had been established Monday. The first recent break-through took place last Friday when the average pushed over the historic high set last Sept. 23 before President Eisenhower's heart attack.

The railroad component of the AP average climbed $1.30 today, industrials rose 90 cents to a new peak, and utilities edged off 10 cents.

In addition to rails, divisions which displayed strength included chemicals, metals, building materials, distillers, and rubbers. Steels were mixed, and aircrafts lower.

National Distillers was at the head of the most active list, up ⅝ at 23⅜ on 71,900 shares. The company last week announced an employe stock and savings plan to which it will contribute.

Westinghouse Electric, where strike settlement possibilities took an adverse turn, was second, off ⅝ at 62 on 34,600 shares.

Others in the most active list included General Motors unchanged at 44⅞, Armour & Co. up ⅜ at 19⅝ and Clinton Foods up ⅛ at 45¼.

Chicago Board Of Trade

CHICAGO, March 8 (AP)—It was largely a waiting market on the Board of Trade today—waiting for the Senate to start voting on various amendments to the new farm bill.

As a result prices did not change a great deal. Most cereals moved up and down within a narrow price range in slow dealings.

Along The Potomac
by Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde

WASHINGTON—Residents of Allegany and Garrett counties, I am certain, received welcome news in the announcement that the Interior Department and the National Park Service is proceeding with plans for a parkway from Hancock to North Branch, together with proposals for better recreational use of the C&O Canal.

House committee approval of new funds for construction at Fort Detrick reminds me I have neglected calling attention to the Department of Defense's designation of Camp Detrick as a permanent military installation with the new designation as "Fort."

I have introduced a bill to transfer the Washington Public Employment Service to the District of Columbia government. The office at present is the only one of the nationwide system of public employment offices not under state direction. My bill would integrate the employment service with the presently locally administered unemployment office and place responsibility where it belongs.

During the past two or three weeks my mail has dealt with my constituents' views on the farm program and the highway construction bill. I am in accord with those in the Sixth Maryland District who feel that high, rigid price supports are not the answer to our farm problem. I also believe that a more equitable distribution of costs of highway construction among highway users is desirable.

I am greatly concerned with the merger-trend in this country and with monopoly tendencies, especially as they affect small business enterprises. My office staff is at work on material which I can use in committee and on the floor of the House in furthering the interests of small firms and in offering greater protection against merger and monopoly trends.

City Workers Ask SS Withholding

All but two of the city's permanent employes have authorized social security withholdings from their wages.

Whether the city will officially come under provisions of the act will not be known until July 1 when empoyes must vote on the question.

But the fact that the majority has authorized withholdings to begin is taken as a sure sign the move will be approved.

Should employes vote to come under social security, the withholdings will be retroactive to January 1. To offset anyone's having to pay a lump sum for the first six months, the city agreed to begin withholding the tax if the employe desired.

The Police and Fire Departments are not affected.

Market Reaches Its Third Record High Within Week

NEW YORK, March 8 (AP) — A strong showing by railroads and a wide cross-section of individual issues carried the stock market today to its third record high within a week.

Gains went to around 4 or 5 points and losses were held to around a point.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 70 cents to a record high of $183.40, topping by 40 cents a new peak which had been established Monday. The first recent break-through took place last Friday when the average pushed over the historic high set last Sept. 23 before President Eisenhower's heart attack.

The railroad component of the AP average climbed $1.30 today, industrials rose 90 cents to a new peak, and utilities edged off 10 cents.

In addition to rails, divisions which displayed strength included chemicals, metals, building materials, distillers, and rubbers. Steels were mixed, and aircrafts lower.

National Distillers was at the head of the most active list, up ⅝ at 23⅜ on 71,900 shares. The company last week announced an employe stock and savings plan to which it will contribute.

Westinghouse Electric, where strike settlement possibilities took an adverse turn, was second, off ⅝ at 62 on 34,600 shares.

Others in the most active list included General Motors unchanged at 44⅜, Armour & Co. up ⅜ at 19⅝ and Clinton Foods up ½ at 45¼.

Along The Potomac
by Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde

WASHINGTON—Residents of Allegany and Garrett counties, I am certain, received welcome news in the announcement that the Interior Department and the National Park Service is proceeding with plans for a parkway from Hancock to North Branch, together with proposals for better recreational use of the C&O Canal.

House committee approval of new funds for construction at Fort Detrick reminds me I have neglected calling attention to the Department of Defense's designation of Camp Detrick as a permanent military installation with the new designation as "Fort."

I have introduced a bill to transfer the Washington Public Employment Service to the District of Columbia government. The office at present is the only one of the nationwide system of public employment offices not under state direction. My bill would integrate the employment service with the presently locally administered unemployment office and place responsibility where it belongs.

During the past two or three weeks my mail has been unusually heavy. Most of this mail has dealt with my constituents' views on the farm program and the highway construction bill. I am in accord with those in the Sixth Maryland District who feel that high, rigid price supports are not the answer to our farm problem. I also believe that a more equitable distribution of costs of highway construction among highway users is desirable.

I am greatly concerned with the merger-trend in this country and with monopoly tendencies, especially as they affect small business enterprises. My office staff is at work on material which I can use in committee and on the floor of the House in furthering the interests of small firms and in offering greater protection against merger and monopoly trends.

Assembly Enacts Port, Bond Bills

Local Bills Die In One-Day Session

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS, March 8 (AP)—The Maryland Legislature today speedily enacted a port authority bill to insure its validity and passed a host of local bond issue measures at a short special session.

The Senate cut off a surge of other local bills which it felt might have thrown into extra days the Assembly's first special meeting since 1950.

The Legislature began its fast-moving session at 10:40 a. m. and wound up business at 6:25 p. m. In less than eight hours it enacted and sent Gov. McKeldin 15 of the 25 bills introduced this morning.

It authorized bond issues for schools, a civil arena and libraries in Baltimore City, schools in Dorchester and Harford counties, and a hospital addition in Prince Georges.

Seizure Bill Amended

It also amended the recently-enacted utility seizure bill to permit Gov. McKeldin to name the third member of an arbitration board if it is used in the Baltimore transit strike. Under the previous law, union and company—which will choose one each—would have named the third by alternately striking off names from a list of five submitted by the American Arbitration Assn.

The port authority bill, a controversial matter in the General Assembly after its introduction at the recent 30-day session, breezed through both houses with only slight opposition.

The Senate passed it 22-5 and it cleared the House 104-1.

The House tacked on an amendment exempting Queen Annes County from its provisions but this brought no objections from either lawmakers or port authority boosters.

Robert O. Bonnell, Baltimore banker and co-chairman of a special committee which worked on the legislation over the past year, said the exemption would make no difference.

He said that under the bill's terms the authority designed to promote and expand commerce through the port of Baltimore would have to get approval of county commissioners before exercising its powers in their county.

Talbot County and all of Anne Arundel except an industrial area near Baltimore had previously been exempted.

Senate President Louis Goldstein (D-Calvert) said the bill would enable Maryland to compete with Canada's St. Lawrence Seaway and Atlantic Coast ports which have similar promotional authorities.

Will Have Broad Powers

The five-member authority will have power to acquire land, construct harbor facilities and promote the port at home and abroad.

Its operations, estimated to cost 2 million dollars a year, will be financed by boosting the corporate income tax from 4½ to 5 per cent.

Today's special session was called by Gov. McKeldin, primarily to re-enact the bill. There had been some question it would be constitutional since it had been enacted at the Legislature's 30-day session restricted to the budget, other fiscal and emergency matters.

His call for the session also listed special bond issues considered urgent for communities and taken up today.

A Senate decision to limit the session to these matters produced the only friction as the Legislature speedily organized and smoothly ran through its work.

The House, which didn't restrict legislation, passed 15 bills but the Senate threw out seven of them along with two of its own as failing to qualify under its rules.

This angered delegates who had sponsored the bills and some senators who had wished to push them through for their communities. But Senate leaders refused to yield.

Local Bills In, Out

Among local bills passed by the House but killed in the Senate Rules Committee were two by the Washington County delegation. They would have permitted the county commissioners to set the amount of expenses for the sheriff and provided that business stock in the county be assessed at 75 per cent of value.

The Senate also spiked a bill enacted at the regular session to

Optimistic Outlook For 1956 Predicted

In reporting a record sales year of $581,966,244 for Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company for 1955, Harry B. Higgins, chairman, and David G. Hill, president, told stockholders that "the outlook for the first half of 1956 is generally optimistic."

Sales for the year were up approximately 35 per cent from 1954, when sales of $431,016,283 were reported.

In the company's annual report prepared for release today, the officers forecast that "beyond mid-year, the economy, given an atmosphere of national confidence, should continue to expand but not at 1955's record rate."

Management is planning to take advantage of an expanding economy by enlarging production facilities and by creating new and improved products in the company's several research laboratories. Production of rough glass in the company's new $34,000,000 plant at North Branch is predicted to start in July.

Net earnings amounted to $61,433,716 or $6.26 per share as compared with $38, 637,629 or $4.18 per share for 1954. Pittsburgh Plate's consolidated report for 1955 includes for the first time sales and earnings of Canadian Pittsburgh Industries Ltd., a wholly-owned Canadian subsidiary with a window glass manufacturing plant, four paint plants and a merchandising division with 46 branches located throughout Canada.

Wages and benefits of $189,600,000 paid to employes also established a new high mark, as did the total annual average of 33,230 employes. In the past decade PPG has spent or authorized $333,000,000 for enlarging and improving its facilities. In the same 10 years sales increased over 215 per cent—from $184,660,940 in 1946 to $581,966,244 in 1955.

Employment rose 49.1 per cent—wages and benefits 199 per cent. Total assets more than tripled during the 10-year period and total cash dividends were up 123 per cent, according to the report.

The unprecedented demand for plate and window glass from the company's major customers — the furniture and mirror, automotive and building construction industries — which started in the fall of 1954 was maintained throughout the year, creating an extremely tight supply of flat glass and flat glass products.

This was part of a world-wide shortage of flat glass which developed in the wake of the improving economy of European and other nations.

Extensive studies were undertaken in 1955 to develop plans to add still more plate and window glass production by either expanding existing glass plants or constructing completely new facilities at other locations.

One result was the decision to build a multimillion-dollar window glass plant at Decatur, Ill. Construction of this plant will start this spring. When completed it will add approximately 15 per cent to window glass capacity.

A representative of a New York firm which specializes in auditing trust funds has just sent a letter to Register of Wills A. Charles Stewart in which he commends the Allegany County Orphans Court for being the most efficient and up-to-date court of its type that he has visited.

The letter was from Warren C. Hodgkiss of the firm of Kennedy Sinclaire Inc., 140 Cedar Street, New York.

"I would like to say that of all the surrogate courts I have worked in, yours is by far the most efficient and up-to-date," Hodgkiss wrote. "I am looking forward to seeing you on my next trip to Cumberland. Thanks again to you and your staff for your wonderful cooperation."

Farm Mishap Is Fatal To District Man

William Hayes Judy Sr., 76, well-known farmer of the South Fork area of Hardy County, W. Va., was killed instantly Tuesday afternoon when a tractor he was driving rolled over on him.

The accident occurred on the Judy farm at Peru, W. Va., about 20 miles south of Moorefield. Judy was reported to have suffered a crushed skull in the accident.

He reportedly had driven the tractor to his home to get an axe and while returning to a nearby wooded area the accident occurred. A son, John D. Judy, about 40, found the victim. There were no witnesses to the accident, and the cause was undetermined.

The farmer was driving along a slight slope in the rear of a barn when the tractor upset.

A native of the South Fork region, Mr. Judy was born February 15, 1880, and was a son of the late John D. and Margaret (Miller) Judy.

Surviving besides his wife, Mrs. Ida (Secrist) Judy, are four children, John D. Judy, William H. Judy Jr., Moorefield; Mrs. Marguerite J. Friend, Arlington, Va.; Mrs. Virginia Smith, Milam, W. Va.; a sister, Mrs. Clara Judy Parsons, Palmyra, Pa.; and a brother, A. M. Judy, North Manchester, Ind.

A funeral service will be conducted today at 2 p. m. at the Mt. Carmel Church in Milam with interment in the family cemetery.

23,000 Letters Request Easter Seal Support

More than 23,000 letters announcing the 12th annual Easter Seal Sale of the Allegany County League for Crippled Children have been mailed out throughout the county.

William R. Carscaden, who again is chairman of the seal sale, notes in the letter that the league has a yearly budget in excess of $25,000. This is the only direct campaign for funds conducted by the league.

The league has a total case load of 1,122 children. Recepits from the 1955 campaign helped provide 1,315 examinations by doctors specializing in work with crippled children, 3,934 treatments by the orthopedic nurse, 4,396 treatments by the speech therapist, 2,881 treatments by the physical therapists and many other services.

No goal has been set in the Easter Seal campaign, although it has been traditional for contributions to come from more than 25 per cent of the letters. Ten per cent is generally considered a good response in a mail campaign.

Last year's campaign receipts totaled $6,350. Of that $5,662.43 was received for Easter Seals and the other $688.22 was collected for Easter Lilies which the Moose and Eagles lodges sold on street corners before Palm Sunday and Easter. This year Tau Phi Lambda sorority, whose members contributed about 40 hours in addressing and stuffing the Easter Seal letters, also will aid the Easter Lily sale.

Out of the contributions, 75 per cent remains here for use by the County League for Crippled Children. Mrs. Vivian L. Annan, executive secretary for the league, said that 8.3 pr cent of total collections goes to the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc. This money is used for research to find the causes of crippling diseases and for college scholarships for persons who will engage in therapeutic work in behalf of crippled children. Similar activities are carried on by the Maryland Society for Crippled Children which gets the other 16.7 per cent of the Easter Seal proceeds.

The 75 per cent which stays in this county is used to buy braces, to transport handicapped children to and from school, for physical therapy, for transportation to and from hospitals, and for hospital care.

Yesterday Mrs. Annan received contributions of $220, the day on which the Easter Seal letters were received.

400 Honor Eves At Dinner Marking B&O Retirement

Over 400 leaders of industry, labor, government and civic affairs met here last night to pay tribute to Mayor Roy W. Eves, superintendent of the Bolt and Forge Shop, who is ending his railroad career after four decades of service with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

A tribute to his achievements was given by Col. Roy B. White, chairman of the board of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

"His successful career," Col. White said, "has come about in the good old American way."

He brought the congratulations of all of the B & O family to the man who has found time for a successful railroad career and at the same time for civic and public affairs, including the task of chief executive of the City of Cumberland.

"A fine citizen and valuable employe" was the accolade given by W. C. Baker, B & O vice president of operations and maintenance.

"Your career is a tribute to railroad character," said W. A. Grotz, president of the Western Maryland Railway, and "an inspiration to younger men" that a railroad executive can achieve success in his chosen work and still find time for public service.

F. B. Rykoskey, general superintendent of motive power and equipment, recounted the busy career of Mayor Eves and paid special tribute to his contributions to the civic life of this community.

He extended his best wishes to Mrs. Eves, who, he said, has been married to Mayor Eves for 50 years and beginning March 11, is 'going to start living with him."

Mayor Eves remarked he had never seen so many people so happy to see a fellow railroader put out of a job.

He said what "what success I have had" is due to the cooperation of people both at the top and in the ranks.

Railroad wives, he said, deserve much of the credit for the success of railroaders.

Cumberland, he said, is the 13th city in which he has lived and worked.

"I have been here a quarter of a century," he said, "and hope to be here at least another score of years. I think it is the finest city in the United States."

In recognition of his work here, J. Joseph Carney Jr., who was a member of the Bolt and Forge staff when Mayor Eves came to Cumberland, presented Mayor Eves with a gold wrist watch.

"You gave me a boxfull of time, and that's all I am going to have," the Mayor replied.

Many officials of the Western Maryland Railway attended the testimonial dinner, including Grotz, G. M. Leilich, and C. R. Zarfoos, vice presidents.

Top management of the B & O present included W. R. Galloway, general manager, and A. W. Conley, general superintendent of transportation.

W. NELSON KAYLOR

Successor To Eves Is Named

The appointment of W. Nelson Kaylor to succeed Roy W. Eves as superintendent of the B&O Bolt and Forge Shop here was announced last night as Eves was honored on his retirement by some 400 railroaders.

Kaylor was born here April 21, 1921, and is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Kaylor, 64 Boone Street.

He was graduated from Fort Hill High School in 1939, and took his bachelor of science degree at Washington College, Chestertown. He also holds certificates in railroad operations and mechanical maintenance from Baltimore University and from American University in Washington.

Kaylor joined the B&O April 1, 1947 as a cost study engineer on the staff of the general superintendent of motive power in Baltimore. In January 1950 he was promoted to cost and methods engineer at the Bolt and Forge Shop here. He became general foreman January 1, 1952, and assistant superintendent April 18, 1955.

He is married to the former Helen Frances Michael of Berkeley Springs, W. Va. They have two children, Edward, six, and Jeanne Kristie, nine months.

Kaylor is a member of the Lions Club, is secretary of the board of trustees of LaVale Methodist Church, and is a member of the board of directors of Central YMCA.

His appointment is effective March 16.

Colder Weather Is Expected

Continued wind, cold weather and snow flurries are scheduled for today as the weatherman forecast that the temperature would dip through the night to 18 degrees in Garrett County and as low as 22 degrees in other portions of the state.

In Cumberland yesterday evening the mercury dipped to the freezing point and snow fell intermittently during the afternoon with high gusts of winds.

Maryland State Police at LaVale said U. S. Route 40 in the immediate area wasn't bad for travel, although snow was "laying" on the highway up in the mountains of Garrett County where the temperature was hovering around 22 degrees last night.

West Virginia and Pennsylvania State Police reported snow was falling and high winds were blowing. The highways were clear.

Motorists Should Have Applications

All Maryland automobile owners should have received applications for their new license tags, according to Tax Collector J. Wallace Close at the Court House.

Those who have not should write the State Department of Motor Vehicles, 21st Street and Guilford Avenue, Baltimore 18. Close's office can sell license tags but can do nothing for motorists who have not received their applications.

Parking Solution Termed Vital To Business Growth

Silver Spring Plan Told To C Of C Group

Cumberland must arrive at a solution to its parking problems if it is to take full advantage of its economic potential, members of the Civic Affairs Committee of the Chamber of Commerce were told yesterday.

The statement was made by Charles H. Kopeland, secretary of the Silver Spring Board of Trade and president of the Maryland Council of Chambers of Commerce, during a luncheon meeting at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

He warned, however, that parking lots are not the whole answer, since a business area may have sufficient parking facilities and still fail to prosper.

To flourish, he said, a business district:

Must have a great selection of merchandise.

Must furnish the merchandising services which people demand today.

Must have adequate parking facilities available within 1,5000 feet of the stores.

Brings More Business

Kopeland stressed that all business interests cannot be satisfied in the early stages of a parking program, since some stores will benefit only indirectly.

But eventually, the lots bring so much more business that more spaces must be secured, and in the spread virtually every firm is served.

The parking program adopted by Cumberland, he said, must be sold to the business and professional people, who must take an objective look at the program.

When an acceptable climate for a parking program arrives, he said, the plan should be taken to the city, for help in finding an equitable solution to finances.

The customer, he said, should not bear the cost of parking facilities, beyond his just share, nor should the merchants put up parking facilities and then price them out of the market.

But someone, he said, must bear the bulk of the cost and it should be the business district served by the parking facilities.

Use Taxing District

Kopeland related the history of Silver Spring's successful parking program.

The plan started in 1945, he said, when the Legislature passed an enabling act allowing the county commissioners to float an $800,000 bond issue, to be amortized by a direct tax on real estate and personal property in the business district, identified as the Parking Lot Authority Area.

Every business and professional office in the area directly or indirectly affected, he said, help to defray the cost of parking through the self-imposed tax.

Dwellings, he said, are not subject to the special assessment.

Here is the picture he painted of the success of the parking authority area:

In 1945, before the parking authority, land in the taxing area cost about $3 a square foot.

Four years later, the same land sold for from $18 to $32 a square foot.

Value Increases

Assessments in the district rose from $4,800,000 in 1945 to over $20,000,000 in 1948.

The program is financed, he said, by an assessment of 40 cents per $1,000 of assessment for improved and half that amount for unimproved property.

The parking bonds, Kopeland said, are the only bonded indebtedness in the county actually paying dividends.

All parking lot funds are earmarked for the amortization and maintenance of parking facilities.

The investment in parking facilities, which was $800,000 in 1945, has risen to almost $4,000,000, he reported.

So far, he said, the program has been self-liquidating and is now making about $27,000 a year in profits.

The program began as free off-street parking but now meters have been placed on about 60 per cent of the space, Kopeland said, adding that fees are five cents an hour for up to three hours.

The city, he said, now has 8,700 parking spaces and all but 400 — located on side streets—are on off-street areas.

He said the location of lots must be selected on their merits by persons who have no self interest.

No attendants are used on lots at Silver Spring, he said, adding that maintenance is in charge of workers under the direction of the authority, and meter collections by the Police Department.

N. Y. City Police Nab Trucker Injured Here

Maryland State Police at LaVale Barracks received a teletype yesterday from New York Police seeking information on Thomas A. Tucker's injuries.

The 30-year-old trucker was taken to Sacred Heart Hospital here on Sunday. City Police said Tucker was injured when his .32 calibre pistol discharged as he was sitting in a truck on North Centre Street.

Assembly Enacts Port, Bond Bills

Local Bills Die In One-Day Session

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS, March 8 (AP)—The Maryland Legislature today speedily enacted a port authority bill to insure its validity and passed a host of local bond issue measures at a short special session.

The Senate cut off a surge of other local bills which it felt might have thrown into extra days the Assembly's first special meeting since 1950.

The Legislature began its fast-moving session at 10:40 a. m. and wound up business at 6:25 p. m. In less than eight hours it enacted and sent Gov. McKeldin 15 of the 25 bills introduced this morning.

It authorized bond issues for schools, a civil arena and libraries in Baltimore City, schools in Dorchester and Harford counties, and a hospital addition in Prince Georges.

Seizure Bill Amended

It also amended the recently-enacted utility seizure bill to permit Gov. McKeldin to name the third member of an arbitration board if it is used in the Baltimore transit strike. Under the previous law, union and company—which will choose one each—would have named the third by alternately striking off names from a list of five submitted by the American Arbitration Assn.

The port authority bill, a controversial matter in the General Assembly after its introduction at the recent 30-day session, breezed through both houses with only slight opposition.

The Senate passed it 22-5 and it cleared the House 104-1.

The House tacked on an amendment exempting Queen Annes County from its provisions but this brought no objections from either lawmakers or port authority boosters.

Robert O. Bonnell, Baltimore banker and co-chairman of a special committee which worked on the legislation over the past year, said the exemption would make no difference.

He said that under the bill's terms the authority designed to promote and expand commerce through the port of Baltimore would have to get approval of county commissioners before exercising its powers in their county.

Talbot County and all of Anne Arundel except an industrial area near Baltimore had previously been exempted.

Senate President Louis Goldstein (D-Calvert) said the bill would enable Maryland to compete with Canada's St. Lawrence Seaway and Atlantic Coast ports which have similar promotional authorities.

Will Have Broad Powers

The five-member authority will have power to acquire land, construct harbor facilities and promote the port at home and abroad.

Its operations, estimated to cost 2 million dollars a year, will be financed by boosting the corporate income tax from 4½ to 5 per cent.

Today's special session was called by Gov. McKeldin, primarily to re-enact the bill. There had been some question it would be constitutional since it had been enacted at the Legislature's 30-day session restricted to the budget, other fiscal and emergency matters.

His call for the session also listed special bond issues considered urgent for communities and taken up today.

A Senate decision to limit the session to these matters produced the only friction as the Legislature speedily organized and smoothly ran through its work.

The House, which didn't restrict legislation, passed 15 bills but the Senate threw out seven of them along with two of its own as failing to qualify under its rules.

This angered delegates who had sponsored the bills and some senators who had wished to push them through for their communities. But Senate leaders refused to yield.

Local Bills In, Out

Among local bills passed by the House but killed in the Senate Rules Committee were two by the Washington County delegation. They would have permitted the county commissioners to set the amount of expenses for the sheriff and provided that business stock in the county be assessed at 75 per cent of value.

The Senate also spiked a bill enacted at the regular session to

Optimistic Outlook For 1956 Predicted

In reporting a record sales year of $581,966,244 for Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company for 1955, Harry B. Higgins, chairman, and David G. Hill, president, told stockholders that "the outlook for the first half of 1956 is generally optimistic."

Sales for the year were up approximately 35 per cent from 1954, when sales of $431,016,283 were reported.

In the company's annual report prepared for release today, the officers forecast that "beyond mid-year, the economy, given an atmosphere of national confidence, should continue to expand but not at 1955's record rate."

Management is planning to take advantage of an expanding economy by enlarging production facilities and by creating new and improved products in the company's several research laboratories. Production of rough glass in the company's new $34,000,000 plant at North Branch is predicted to start in July.

Net earnings amounted to $61,433,716 or $6.26 per share as compared with $38, 637,629 or $4.18 per share for 1954. Pittsburgh Plate's consolidated report for 1955 includes for the first time sales and earnings of Canadian Pittsburgh Industries Ltd., a wholly-owned Canadian subsidiary with a window glass manufacturing plant, four paint plants and a merchandising division with 46 branches located throughout Canada.

Wages and benefits of $189,600,000 paid to employes also established a new high mark, as did the total annual average of 33,230 employes. In the past decade PPG has spent or authorized $333,000,000 for enlarging and improving its facilities. In the same 10 years sales increased over 215 per cent—from $184,660,940 in 1946 to $581,966,244 in 1955.

Employment rose 49.1 per cent—wages and benefits 199 per cent. Total assets more than tripled during the 10-year period and total cash dividends were up 123 per cent, according to the report.

The unprecedented demand for plate and window glass from the company's major customers — the furniture and mirror, automotive and building construction industries — which started in the fall of 1954 was maintained throughout the year, creating an extremely tight supply of flat glass and flat glass products.

This was part of a world-wide shortage of flat glass which developed in the wake of the improving economy of European and other nations.

Extensive studies were undertaken in 1955 to develop plans to add still more plate and window glass production by either expanding existing glass plants or constructing completely new facilities at other locations.

One result was the decision to build a multimillion-dollar window glass plant at Decatur, Ill. Construction of this plant will start this spring. When completed it will add approximately 15 per cent to window glass capacity.

23,000 Letters Request Easter Seal Support

More than 23,000 letters announcing the 12th annual Easter Seal Sale of the Allegany County League for Crippled Children have been mailed out throughout the county.

William R. Carscaden, who again is chairman of the seal sale, notes in the letter that the league has a yearly budget in excess of $25,000. This is the only direct campaign for funds conducted by the league.

The league has a total case load of 1,122 children. Recepits from the 1955 campaign helped provide 1,315 examinations by doctors specializing in work with crippled children, 3,934 treatments by the orthopedic nurse, 4,396 treatments by the speech therapist, 2,881 treatments by the physical therapists and many other services.

No goal has been set in the Easter Seal campaign, although it has been traditional for contributions to come from more than 25 per cent of the letters. Ten per cent is generally considered a good response in a mail campaign.

Last year's campaign receipts totaled $6,350. Of that $5,662.43 was received for Easter Seals and the other $688.22 was collected for Easter Lilies which the Moose and Eagles lodges sold on street corners before Palm Sunday and Easter. This year Tau Phi Lambda sorority, whose members contributed about 40 hours in addressing and stuffing the Easter Seal letters, also will aid the Easter Lily sale.

Out of the contributions, 75 per cent remains here for use by the County League for Crippled Children. Mrs. Vivian L. Annan, executive secretary for the league, said that 8.3 pr cent of total collections goes to the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc. This money is used for research to find the causes of crippling diseases and for college scholarships for persons who will engage in therapeutic work in behalf of crippled children. Similar activities are carried on by the Maryland Society for Crippled Children which gets the other 16.7 per cent of the Easter Seal proceeds.

The 75 per cent which stays in this county is used to buy braces, to transport handicapped children to and from school, for physical therapy, for transportation to and from hospitals, and for hospital care.

Yesterday Mrs. Annan received contributions of $220, the day on which the Easter Seal letters were received.

400 Honor Eves At Dinner Marking B&O Retirement

Over 400 leaders of industry, labor, government and civic affairs met here last night to pay tribute to Mayor Roy W. Eves, superintendent of the Bolt and Forge Shop, who is ending his railroad career after four decades of service with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

A tribute to his achievements was given by Col. Roy B. White, chairman of the board of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

"His successful career," Col. White said, "has come about in the good old American way."

He brought the congratulations of all of the B & O family to the man who has found time for a successful railroad career and at the same time for civic and public affairs, including the task of chief executive of the City of Cumberland.

"A fine citizen and valuable employe" was the accolade given by W. C. Baker, B & O vice president of operations and maintenance.

"Your career is a tribute to railroad character," said W. A. Grotz, president of the Western Maryland Railway, and "an inspiration to younger men" that a railroad executive can achieve success in his chosen work and still find time for public service.

F. B. Rykoskey, general superintendent of motive power and equipment, recounted the busy career of Mayor Eves and paid special tribute to his contributions to the civic life of this community.

He extended his best wishes to Mrs. Eves, who, he said, has been married to Mayor Eves for 50 years and beginning March 11, is 'going to start living with him."

Mayor Eves remarked he had never seen so many people so happy to see a fellow railroader put out of a job.

He said what "what success I have had" is due to the cooperation of people both at the top and in the ranks.

Railroad wives, he said, deserve much of the credit for the success of railroaders.

Cumberland, he said, is the 13th city in which he has lived and worked.

"I have been here a quarter of a century," he said, "and hope to be here at least another score of years. I think it is the finest city in the United States."

In recognition of his work here, J. Joseph Carney Jr., who was a member of the Bolt and Forge staff when Mayor Eves came to Cumberland, presented Mayor Eves with a gold wrist watch.

"You gave me a boxfull of time, and that's all I am going to have," the Mayor replied.

Many officials of the Western Maryland Railway attended the testimonial dinner, including Grotz, G. M. Leilich, and C. R. Zarfoos, vice presidents.

Church To Show Film

The movie, "The Unfinished Task," will be shown for the first time in this area Sunday at 7:30 p. m. at Trinity Lutheran Church on North Centre Street.

The 83-minute movie was produced by the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod to further the "Venture of Faith" missionary program of the church. The showing will be open to the public.

W. NELSON KAYLOR

Successor To Eves Is Named

The appointment of W. Nelson Kaylor to succeed Roy W. Eves as superintendent of the B&O Bolt and Forge Shop here was announced last night as Eves was honored on his retirement by some 400 railroaders.

Kaylor was born here April 21, 1921, and is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Kaylor, 64 Boone Street.

He was graduated from Fort Hill High School in 1939, and took his bachelor of science degree at Washington College, Chestertown. He also holds certificates in railroad operations and mechanical maintenance from Baltimore University and from American University in Washington.

Kaylor joined the B&O April 1, 1947 as a cost study engineer on the staff of the general superintendent of motive power in Baltimore. In January 1950 he was promoted to cost and methods engineer at the Bolt and Forge Shop here. He became general foreman January 1, 1952, and assistant superintendent April 18, 1955.

He is married to the former Helen Frances Michael of Berkeley Springs, W. Va. They have two children, Edward, six, and Jeanne Kristie, nine months.

Kaylor is a member of the Lions Club, is secretary of the board of trustees of LaVale Methodist Church, and is a member of the board of directors of Central YMCA.

His appointment is effective March 16.

Colder Weather Is Expected

Continued wind, cold weather and snow flurries are scheduled for today as the weatherman forecast that the temperature would dip through the night to 18 degrees in Garrett County and as low as 22 degrees in other portions of the state.

In Cumberland yesterday evening the mercury dipped to the freezing point and snow fell intermittently during the afternoon with high gusts of winds.

Maryland State Police at LaVale said U. S. Route 40 in the immediate area wasn't bad for travel, although snow was "laying" on the highway up in the mountains of Garrett County where the temperature was hovering around 22 degrees last night.

West Virginia and Pennsylvania State Police reported snow was falling and high winds were blowing. The highways were clear.

Motorists Should Have Applications

All Maryland automobile owners should have received applications for their new license tags, according to Tax Collector J. Wallace Close at the Court House.

Those who have not should write the State Department of Motor Vehicles, 21st Street and Guilford Avenue, Baltimore 18. Close's office can sell license tags but can do nothing for motorists who have not received their applications.

Parking Solution Termed Vital To Business Growth

Silver Spring Plan Told To C Of C Group

Cumberland must arrive at a solution to its parking problems if it is to take full advantage of its economic potential, members of the Civic Affairs Committee of the Chamber of Commerce were told yesterday.

The statement was made by Charles H. Kopeland, secretary of the Silver Spring Board of Trade and president of the Maryland Council of Chambers of Commerce, during a luncheon meeting at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

He warned, however, that parking lots are not the whole answer, since a business area may have sufficient parking facilities and still fail to prosper.

To flourish, he said, a business district:

Must have a great selection of merchandise.

Must furnish the merchandising services which people demand today.

Must have adequate parking facilities available within 1,5000 feet of the stores.

Brings More Business

Kopeland stressed that all business interests cannot be satisfied in the early stages of a parking program, since some stores will benefit only indirectly.

But eventually, the lots bring so much more business that more spaces must be secured, and in the spread virtually every firm is served.

The parking program adopted by Cumberland, he said, must be sold to the business and professional people, who must take an objective look at the program.

When an acceptable climate for a parking program arrives, he said, the plan should be taken to the city, for help in finding an equitable solution to finances.

The customer, he said, should not bear the cost of parking facilities, beyond his just share, nor should the merchants put up parking facilities and then price them out of the market.

But someone, he said, must bear the bulk of the cost and it should be the business district served by the parking facilities.

Use Taxing District

Kopeland related the history of Silver Spring's successful parking program.

The plan started in 1945, he said, when the Legislature passed an enabling act allowing the county commissioners to float an $800,000 bond issue, to be amortized by a direct tax on real estate and personal property in the business district, identified as the Parking Lot Authority Area.

Every business and professional office in the area directly or indirectly affected, he said, help to defray the cost of parking through the self-imposed tax.

Dwellings, he said, are not subject to the special assessment.

Here is the picture he painted of the success of the parking authority area:

In 1945, before the parking authority, land in the taxing area cost about $3 a square foot.

Four years later, the same land sold for from $18 to $32 a square foot.

Value Increases

Assessments in the district rose from $4,800,000 in 1945 to over $20,000,000 in 1948.

The program is financed, he said, by an assessment of 40 cents per $1,000 of assessment for improved and half that amount for unimproved property.

The parking bonds, Kopeland said, are the only bonded indebtedness in the county actually paying dividends.

All parking lot funds are earmarked for the amortization and maintenance of parking facilities.

The investment in parking facilities, which was $800,000 in 1945, has risen to almost $4,000,000, he reported.

So far, he said, the program has been self-liquidating and is now making about $27,000 a year in profits.

The program began as free off-street parking but now meters have been placed on about 60 per cent of the space, Kopeland said, adding that fees are five cents an hour for up to three hours.

The city, he said, now has 8,700 parking spaces and all but 400 — located on side streets—are on off-street areas.

He said the location of lots must be selected on their merits by persons who have no self interest.

No attendants are used on lots at Silver Spring, he said, adding that maintenance is in charge of workers under the direction of the authority, and meter collections by the Police Department.

N. Y. City Police Nab Trucker Injured Here

A Gary, Ind., truck driver who was treated at a local hospital Sunday night for powder burns of his right hand after a pistol he was cleaning accidently discharged, has been arrested by New York City Police for possession of a dangerous weapon.

Maryland State Police at LaVale Barracks received a teletype yesterday from New York Police seeking information on Thomas A. Tucker's injuries.

The 30-year-old trucker was taken to Sacred Heart Hospital here on Sunday. City Police said Tucker was injured when his .32 calibre pistol discharged as he was sitting in a truck on North Centre Street.
